CITY AWAITS WORD OF LAND SALE PARLEY

Mayor J. C. Pendray Will Return to City on Saturday

No Advance Word of Progress of Negotiations Received

Mayor J. C. Pendray who went to Los Angeles as city representative to further the negotiations with George McManus and associates in the reverted lands deal, will be back in the city on Saturday to make his report to the council on the outcome of his visit, it was stated by Acting Mayor R. A. C. Dewar at the City Hall to-day.

No intimation of how negotiations have progressed on the plan was vouchsafed in the communication from the Mayor to the city to-day, it was stated by Mr. Dewar, the message merely giving the date of his return to the city.

THREE MONTHS' OPTION

Mayor Pendray, instructed by the City Council, left for Los Angeles last week and has spent four days in the southern city in touch with the syndicate to which the city has given a three months' option on 2,300 parcels of its unreserved lands.

The terms of the option called for a purchase price in the neighborhood of $812,000, with the payment of $150,000 this year and at the rate of $100,000 yearly, with interest and taxes on the property as these became due.

These terms were based on a tentative price of sixty per cent of the list price of the properties in question, said to be valued at list price of approximately $1,350,000, having an assessed value of approximately $1,700,000.

An informal offer of fifty per cent of the list price, or about $670,000 with a down payment of $10,000, was rejected by the city after a meeting of the council recently.

The outcome of the reverted land negotiations will not likely be known until the return of Mayor Pendray at the end of the week, it was indicated at the City Hall to-day. Great interest has been aroused by the negotiations looking toward a bulk sale of the unreserved property of the city.

One effect has been to awaken Victorians to the value of the city holdings. Increased inquiries and sales over the counter of the city lands department has been noticable this year, with the property selling for former prices.

The revenue to the city last year from its land operations was in the neighborhood of $130,000, for land on which improvements to a considerable total were built by private owners, after their purchases from the city. Sales this year have been running to 200 per cent of the sales of 1927 for the corresponding period and better prices are being realized.

FINE YACHTS IN MAY 24 RACE

Five-mile Course Off Dallas Waterfront Set Out; Time of Race Changed

Victoria's best in the yachting world will be seen slipping through the waters off the Dallas front on May 24 in competition for the Virtue trophy, emblematic of the celebration championship, it was announced by the May 24 committee this morning.

The time of the yacht race has been altered from the evening of May 23 to 12.30 p.m. on May 24, providing a favorable lapse between celebrations in the city.

A five-mile course has been laid out by the yacht race committee in conjunction with yachting officials, and in the event of a stiff breeze at the time of the race the course will be sailed twice. Should there be only a light wind, once around the course will be sufficient.

COURSE OF RACE

Starting at Finlayson Point, known better to Victorians as Horseshoe Bay Point, the yacht will proceed in a westerly direction, passing Brotchy Ledge on the outside and turning at a buoy off the end of the Ogden Point breakwater. An easterly course will then be set along the Dallas waterfront back to Finlayson Point, passing on the outside of Glimpse Reef.

It is to be an open handicap race, and present indications are that there will be a large entry list. Among the vessels expected to compete are: The Fayth, owned by Dr. John Harper, commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club; the Truant, owned by W. E. Adams; H. T. Barnes's Minena, Major W. H. Langley's Dorothy, A. D. Crease's Loon, N. P. Blady's Lady Joy, a catboat owned by L. R. Whittington, and a starboat owned by R. P. Blandy.

FINE TROPHY

The trophy for the race has been donated by J. A. Virtue for yearly competition on May 24. It is a handsome silver trophy fashioned in the shape of a boat with fairies sitting at the prow and the stern. It will be on display in a downtown window during the remainder of this week and early next week.

Columbia Chosen For Second Atlantic Flight

Curtiss Field, N.Y., May 17.—Miss Mabel Boll, "Queen of Diamonds," and first woman passenger to make a non-stop aeroplane flight from New York to Havana, has engaged Lieut. Jack Eiseman, commandant of the naval air station at Rockaway Beach, to pilot her on a transatlantic flight.

They hope to attempt the flight in the monoplane Columbia, in which Clarence D. Chamberlain and Charles A. Levine made their Atlantic crossing, as soon as the weather is favorable for the take-off.

Fishermen Declare They Saw Steamship Sink Off Coast of Cape Breton

Sydney, N.S., May 17.—A possible marine tragedy was feared to-day when two fishermen reported that as they were walking along the coast this morning they had seen a large unknown steamer, which appeared to be low in the water, disappear about two miles off New Waterford. The men had no glasses and did not get a good view of the ship.

Officials are waiting further information to support or confirm the report.

New Waterford is on the east coast of Cape Breton, between Sydney and Glace Bay.

PROPERTY IS ACQUIRED FOR NEW BUSINESS

Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd. Purchase Leigh Mill Site on Pleasant Street

To take care of expanding business, the Moore-Whittington Lumber Company Limited, lumber manufacturers with sawmill locate on Pleasant Street, has purchased the mill property formerly operated by the Leigh Mill Company in the Victoria West district.

The property, the deal for which has just been completed, has a frontage of 148 feet on David Street and extends along Pleasant Street to tidewater.

"We are planning greater development in our lumber export business," to-day said William Moore, partner in the firm, in announcing the purchase of the Leigh site immediately adjoining the Moore-Whittington mill. It is not the intention of the purchasers to operate the mill that exists on the former Leigh property, it was stated by Mr. Moore. The buildings will be torn down to make additional space for the storage of export lumber. This phase of the business has been steadily increased of late by the Moore-Whittington Company and larger offshore shipments are being made each month.

ORIGINAL OF ANDY GUMP ASKS AWARD

Syracuse, N.Y., May 17—David Hoag of Canandaigua, who claims to have been the inspiration for the creation of "Andy Gump" of comic strip fame, is suing The Syracuse Post Standard for damages of $1,000,000.

Hoag, a native of Ireland, and now about seventy years of age, claims he has known Sydney Smith, creator of "Andy Gump," since Smith was a boy in Canandaigua.

Some years ago an operation for a facial growth left Hoag with an abbreviated and distorted chin. Hoag alleges Smith took his facial lines as the model for his character and that the publication of the comic strip has been to his own shame and mental torture, as he realizes his own face is being caricatured.

The suit was filed yesterday.

CITY WILL ADVERTISE

Industrial Committee of City Council Develop New Policy

Adopting a policy of direct advertising in some of the chief industrial centres of the United Kingdom, the industrial committee of the City Council will place advertisements in daily papers of Northampton, England, soliciting inquiries from boot and shoe manufacturers wishing to extend their British markets.

The scheme was suggested by Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the industrial committee of the City Council, to take advantage of the favorable publicity Victoria received as a result of the negotiations with John Moore of Bradford, England, in the centre of the woolen industry.

Northampton is the centre of the boot and shoe industry in the United Kingdom. The policy will be followed out by similar advertisements from time to time in other centres, setting out the advantages of Vancouver Island for manufacturers interested in Pacific markets.

The advertisements invite correspondence from manufacturers wishing to extend their connection, particularly in regard to the Pacific trade, and point out the favorable location of Victoria as a gateway for waterborne commerce on this coast.

MRS. J. D. MacLEAN TO CROWN MAY QUEEN

Victoria's winsome May Queen, Miss Marguerite Jeeves, will receive her royal insignia at the hands of Mrs. J. D. MacLean, wife of the Premier of British Columbia.

The coronation ceremony will take place at the Armories on the evening of May 23, at the conclusion of a concert to be given by children of the public schools, from a stage being erected to accommodate a choir of 200 voices.

The concert will commence at 8 o'clock and the coronation is scheduled to be performed by Mrs. MacLean at 9.15 o'clock.

TIMES EXTRA TO-MORROW ON CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

The Times will print an extra to-morrow night, giving all the details of the lightweight championship fight between Sammy Mandell, the title-holder, and Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver. The fight was to have been held to-night, but has been postponed twenty-four hours by Tex Rickard, the promotor. It will start at 5.45 o'clock Victoria time. There will be fifteen three-minute rounds, provided there is no knockout.

There is unusual interest in the fight, not only in New York but also on the Pacific Coast. McLarnin is a Vancouver boy, whose fight up the pugilistic ladder has been carefully watched by the entire West. The sentiment in Victoria is all with McLarnin. Just how the money lies is another question.

The Times extra will be on the streets immediately after the fight ends.

COMPLAINTS ON DOCK SHOUTING

City Police Board Will Be Asked to Eliminate Nuisance

Barrage of Steamship Sirens Used to Drown Megaphones

Formal protest against the shouting of tallyho men at the C.P.R. Docks in the Inner Harbor will be made to the next meeting of the City Police Board, it was learned to-day.

The annoyance caused to visitors by over-zealous solicitation by sightseeing bus drivers has been a frequent source of protest and has been complained of by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce on a number of occasions.

Police court prosecution, attempted in other years, failed to put an end to the nuisance, which this year has broken out again with fresh impetus, it is stated.

For over a week now the daily ferry steamers from Vancouver and Seattle have been greeted by leather-lunged choruses from the shore in a demonstration that has been answered by ship's captains ordering intermittent blasts on the steamships sirens. Bedlam has resulted.

To put an end to the present unsatisfactory state of affairs the City Police Commission will be asked to take effective measures to put a stop to the nuisance and to settle the trouble once and for all.

Bank Clearings Here Gain Over $200,000

Victoria bank clearings for the week ending to-day total $2,682,095.

Clearings for the corresponding week of last year were $2,478,451.

SYDNEY GRAFT CHARGES HEARD

Trickery Surrounded Powerhouse Contract, Australian Commission Is Told

Sydney, Australia, May 17 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—Extraordinary charges of municipal graft have been made before a civic royal commission which is inquiring into charges of corruption in connection with a contract that was signed in 1925 for the municipal powerhouse here.

Arthur J. Arnot, general manager in Australia for Babcock and Wilcox Ltd., the chief witness at the inquiry, in his testimony said that S. Y. Maling, general manager of the municipality's electric department had told him it would cost his firm £7,500 to obtain the contract £2,500 to go to Maling himself and the remainder to what Maling called "the gang."

Arnot declared he protested strongly against this, but Maling said he "had to do it."

AGREED TO PAY

Subsequently Maling told Arnot, the witness continued, that at a meeting a certain alderman had declared that if £10,000 were not paid the contract would go to another company. The other company was ready to put up £15,000 to get it, he said.

Arnot characterized this as blackmail. However, he wrote to Sir James Kendall, managing director of the company in London, telling him of the interview with Maling and "in view of his authority to pay blackmail," the witness had agreed to pay.

Mayor Taylor Urged By McGeer to Retire Till Vancouver Inquiry Is Completed

Police Commission to Make Ruling on Position of Constable H. H. Duggan

Vancouver, May 17—Demand that Mayor Louis D. Taylor and Inspector John Jackson stand down until completion of the Vancouver police inquiry at present being held by R. S. Lennie as a special commissioner, was voiced by G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for Police Commissioner T. W. Fletcher, at this forenoon's session of the investigation.

"There is direct evidence against the chairman of the police commission," he declared.

The demand followed a suggestion made by Alex. Henderson, K.C., counsel for Mayor Taylor, that Commissioner Lennie should recommend the suspension of Constable H. H. Duggan as he had recommended the suspension of Chief H. W. Long and Detective Sergeant George McLaughlin. Constable Duggan yesterday admitted on the stand he had played a lottery

POLICE HUNTING SAFECRACKERS

Series of Crimes in Vancouver Believed Work of One Gang of Thugs

Vancouver, May 17—That an organized gang of safecrackers is operating in this city is the opinion of the police authorities, who are endeavoring to obtain a clue to the identity of the leaders of the yeggs.

Within the last five days no fewer than four safes have been attacked by thieves, who in one instance staged a gunfight with a member of the police force.

THEATRE ROBBED

The latest outrage came last night, when the safe in the Grandview Theatre, Commercial Drive, was blown, the sum of $175 being taken therefrom.

According to police reports, the cracksman did a workmanlike job, wrenching the combination dial from the safe and then pouring nitroglycerine into the aperture, which they exploded, blowing open the door of the strong box.

British, United States, French, Italian and Japanese Put Up Defences About Legation Quarter to Meet Any Possible Attack if Nationalists Take City From the Northern Troops; Machine Guns Placed Along Walls

Peking, May 17.—Threatened by advancing Chinese Nationalist troops, Peking was tense to-day. Larger patrols than usual moved through the streets of the native city and about the foreign concessions.

British nationals were warned by their legation to be prepared to move into the legation quarter at short notice. Valuables were being sent for safekeeping by both Chinese and foreigners to the various legations.

Preparations to defend the legation quarter had been made by the guards. Japanese soldiers worked actively providing quarters for several hundred of their troops near the former Austrian Legation and strengthening their defences.

A heavy wall of masonry rose along the western boundary of the legation quarter, which is already protected by the great Tartar Wall on the south. Heavy gates encased in iron sheeting barred the entrances to the Chinese city on the north. Along many points in the enclosing wall new loopholes were cut to permit freer use of machine guns.

BRITISH-UNITED STATES GUARDS

United States marines were assigned to defend the southern boundary, marked by the Tartar Wall, and they shared the western front with the British.

The French took the east boundary and the Japanese, Italians and British the north.

The international force of 1,650 defending the quarter includes British infantry, United States marines, French colonial troops, Japanese infantry and Italian marines.

TIENTSIN DEFENCE

In Tientsin, also threatened, 1,600 British infantry, 3,950 United States marines, 2,200 French colonials, 400 Japanese and 375 Italians form the defending forces.

UNEXPLORED LAND SEEN BY AIR CREW

Dirigible Italia Returning to Spitzbergen After Trip to Lenin Island Group

King's Bay, Spitzbergen, May 17.—The dirigible Italia had progressed so steadily in its flight over the ice-covered Arctic that members of the base crew of General Umberto Nobile's expedition here to-day believed the fliers had reached their objective, Lenin Land, about 1,000 miles east of King's Bay.

They eagerly awaited the explorers' return to this base to learn what they had discovered on their trip over uncharted waters and on to Lenin Land, which lands are north of the Taimyr Peninsula, the most northerly part of Siberia, and had never been explored. General Nobile had planned to lower a party to the ice on Lenin Land.

SECOND FLIGHT

General Nobile and his companions are expected to return here to-morrow and then start almost immediately on another flight of exploration to the so-called Crockerland, which Peary and other explorers expected to see.

Radio messages received by the base ship, the Citta di Milano here from the Italia indicated that generally the airship had met favorable flying weather. It made a speed of from thirty to fifty kilometres an hour, depending on the wind. In passing over Franz Josef Land and heading toward Lenin Land the dirigible found a little fog, but the visibility was good for 100 kilometres. The last message from the airship at 7 o'clock Greenwich Time last night said the explorers were within sight of Cape Nicholas. The weather was fine with a little wind. It was hoped the Italia would be at Lenin Land at 10 p.m.

The Rotary Club will have a big float in the Victoria Day parade, R. R. Webb assuring the members that they will be proud of the achievement of the float committee. Twelve members were drafted to act as escore to the float in the parade, all to be attired in white duck suits and straw hats.

PRAIRIE FARMERS RUSH SEEDING TO COMPLETION

Winnipeg, May 17—Farmers and market gardeners in Manitoba were in a happy mood to-day as the result of a welcome overnight downpour of rain.

The precipitation, the first in more than two weeks, ranged from showers to a veritable deluge. In Winnipeg a fall of nearly an inch and a half was recorded.

With wheat seeding completed in Manitoba, the moisture was most opportune and will materially contribute to early germination. Clear weather to-day and a forecast of cool winds gave promise of an early resumption of coarse grain seeding, which already is well advanced.

Elsewhere in the prairie grain belt, seeding was being pushed to completion. Light showers were reported from scattered points both in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Generally, just sufficient rain fell to settle the surface soil, temporarily allaying fears of further drifting. Prospects farther West are for showers during the next twenty-four hours

GEORGE WATSON NEW PRESIDENT

Elected Leader of Victoria Musical Association at Annual Meeting Last Evening

Councillor George Watson of Saanich was unanimously chosen to act as president of the Victoria Musical Festival Association for the coming year, at the annual meeting of the association held last evening in the Council Chamber of the City Hall.

Mr. Watson will succeed J. G. Brown who has been president of the association since its inauguration two years ago. Other officers elected last evening were H. A. Beckwith, first vice-president; W. P. Jeune, second vice-president; Mrs. A. R. Walsh, third vice-president; Miss Eva Dann, corresponding secretary; E. Cave-Brown-Cave, recording secretary; Austin I. Curtis, treasurer. Mr. Curtis was re-eleceted. The following were elected as the committee: Jackson Hanby, George A. Bucklin, Fred Waddington, Mrs. W. H. Radbourne, Albert Young, Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Miss E. Brompton, John Smith and L. A. Gane.

THANK RETIRING PRESIDENT

In the unavoidable absence of the president, J. C. M. Keith, first vice-president filled the chair. A letter was read from Mr. Brown who stated that while the interests of the association would always be his, he would not be able to again run for office. Mr. Keith moved that a letter be sent to Mr. Brown expressing the thanks of the members of the association for his untiring work during the last two years and for his zeal in advancing the cause of the association at all times.

"Were it not for Mr. Brown's help at all times," said Mr Keith, "I am afraid the affairs of the association would not have been as harmonious as they turned out to be. His place will indeed be hard to fill."

The retiring recording secretary, Mrs. A. R. Walsh, in her report gave a brief resume of the work accomplished during the past year. The association had been most active she reported, particularly at the time of the festival when all of the adjudicators and several of the out-of-town competitors had been entertained at various social functions.

Gordon Holdcroft in his report as corresponding secretary stressed the fact that, in order to lessen the cost of future Victoria musical festivals the local association should amalgamate with festivals to be held in Nanaimo and in the Okanagan. In this way several of the greater costs of the festivals, particularly the fees of the adjudicators, would be considerably lessened. The meeting generally approved of this and efforts along this line will be made shortly .

The treasurer, Austin Curtis, showed in his report that the finances of the association were in good shape. He pointed out that while there was a short deficit in this year's festival of $13.20, a balance of $1,629 was carried over from last year. In this way the association was well ahead of the game.

Hearty votes of thanks were passed by the meeting to The Colonist and The Times for publicity given during the festival and at all other times.

"Thirty meetings were held during the year with an average attendance of eleven," Mrs. A. R. Walsh, secretary, said in her annual report.

"After the standing committees were appointed the whole stress of our efforts was laid on making the syllabus ready for the press. This is a task no one can fully appreciate without experience. The syllabus and programme committee—Mr. Waddington, Mrs. Radburn, Mr. Keith and Mr. Bevan-Pritchard—and the music selections committee—Mr. King, Mrs. Jameson, Mr. Waddington, Major Bullock-Webster, Mr. Hanby and Mr. Wickett—will, I am sure, heartily support me in this statement. Twenty new classes were added to the syllabus, including the gold medal class. This increase of classes necessitated more days for the festival, many more prizes and increased expenses. In this connection I would like to mention the wonderful response made by the public (societies and individuals) to the requests of the prize committee (the secretary, Mrs. Radburn and Mrs. Jameson). At the next meeting after the committee was appointed we were able to report the prize list practically complete.

"Bronze medals were an added feature this year. It was thought that the winner of a cup or shield should have something, after giving up the trophy, to show that he or she had won it. They proved, however, to be quite an added expense and we are not sure they are worth their cost. It was perhaps noticed that a little more attention was paid our adjudicators and out-of-town visitors this year than last. The adjudicators were entertained at luncheons by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. Our president, Mr. Brown, also entertained them all and the directors as well at a luncheon, and an invitation to the reception for Lord and Lady Willingdon at Government House was also arranged. Through the courtesy of the Young People's Society of the First United Church the visiting school choirs—Port Angeles, Duncan and Shawnigan—were entertained at supper. This was especially appreciated by the young people and their teachers.

"In closing I must say a few words of appreciation of our retiring president, J. G. Brown, the man who has so successfully and well guided the affairs of the association the past two years. His broad vision, kindly heart, wide experience and firm hand have meant very much to the pioneer work of the movement. His place will be hard to fill."

Le Gallienne Honors Ibsen—And How!

Leads Her Company Through Three of Henrik's Plays in a Day; Then to Bed

By LEONARD HALL

New York May 17. — Old Henrik Ibsen, the great Norse dramatist, now has been carrying on—boy, man and angel—for one hundred years, and this notable centenary in the world theatre has been celebrated here by a lot of speeches and the dramatic efforts of Miss Eva Le Gallienne

This young actress manager, who for two years has been running what she calls The Civic Repertory Company in an old barn of a theatre down on the upper rim of Greenwich Village, has added Henrik's fine play, "Hedda Gabler," to her bag of dramatic tricks, and is appearing once or twice a week in the play with considerable success.

* * *

This production, however, is only an item in Eva's birthday party for old Henrik. When Le Gallienne celebrates a centenary, it stays celebrated, and how! She decided, lacking Ibsen's presence, to puff out five score candles in a bigger and more constructive way, and the gale that occurred seriously unsettled the shipping in New York harbor.

What happened when Eva got through must have set the playwright rolling in his cool tomb. For she presented no less than three of his plays in one and the same day. At 10.30 a.m., Eva and her company presented a dress rehearsal of "Hedda Gabler." Resuscitated by heavy drams of aromatic spirts of ammonia, at 2.30 p.m. the actors went after "The Master Builder," and had that situation mopped up by five.

At 8.30 p.m., faint yet pursuing, the company went at "John Gabriel Borkman."

At midnight, with eight hours of Ibsen shouted, whispered, and cooed, the actors staggered to their homes, fell into their trundle beds fully clothed, and slept for fourteen hours.

* * *

Nothing like this theatrical six-day bicycle race has ever been seen in the theatre, and probably will not be until the ambitious Eva, on some Shakespeare birthday, does three of the bard's plays, with a snappy midnight show of "Macbeth" to wind up the celebration.

Intensive inquiry and research have failed to turn up anyone who sat through the three Ibsen plays—probably for the very good reason that if such a person really existed, he is now either in a madhouse or his grave.

All joking to one side, it remained for Eva Le Gallienne to suitably honor Ibsen in America on the occasion of the centenary of his birth.

When his plays were first done in English thirty years ago he was looked upon as an iconoclast of the most malevolent sort. London censors barred him, and intellectuals fought for him.

A lot of adjectives have gone over the typewriter since those fabulous times, but he still remains as the man who kicked overboard the old-fashioned fussy dramatic technique and began writing terse, gripping plays about real people

Eva Le Gallienne—both of them

Food For the Teeth

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

The Academy of Periodontology, which merely means to say that it is concerned with the teeth, has recently issued a bulletin on proper diets associated with healthful teeth.

An extensive investigation of the modern dietary has shown that it is often deficient in calcium, iron, phosphorus, iodine, vitamins and roughage.

In many food substances, particularly in cereals, potatoes, the root vegetables and in most fruits these elements are found associated with the outer structure or peel. In the modern meal of cereals and usually in the preparation of foods and vegetables for the table these portions are omitted.

MILK AND VEGETABLES

It is therefore necessary to supplement the diet by providing plenty of milk, fresh green leafy vegetables, fruits, butter, liver (at least once a week) and sea fish.

The dental bulletin points out that not only is the inclusion of these substances necessary, but also they must be so handled in the kitchen as to permit the retaining of most of the natural color, flavor and health promoting contents. The important materials are sometimes lost in the cooking water.

Ninety-nine per cent of the calcium in the human body is in the bones and in the teeth. Calcium is so necessary to life that the blood takes it up from the structures which have it, if it is not supplied in the food.

Calcium is especially provided in milk, phosphorus in cauliflower, potassium in potatoes, the vitamins in butter and in the leafy vegetables, and especially in liver; iron is provided in the liver and in some of the leafy vegetables; roughage in the diet can be had by eating cauliflower, potato skins, lettuce and some of the fruits. Calcium is also to be had in buttermilk, cheese, celery, cabbage and egg yolks.

FACTS EASY TO GET

The basic facts regarding diet are relatively simple. Anyone who really wishes to be informed can find them available in dozens of books and pamphlets on the subject.

To be without this information today is not only harmful to the individual person, but is actually to be taken as a sign of ignorance equivalent to inability to read and write.

SALVAGE KING TO AID FRENCH LINE STEAMER

Left Port at 12.15 To-day For Point Wilson Where Nevada Is Aground

To tow off the French line freighter Nevada, which went aground yesterday morning near Port Townsend, the Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Salvage King left port at 12.15 p.m. today.

According to reports received here, it is understood the Nevada is in no actual danger but is firmly embedded in the sand. She went ashore on an ebb tide and was left on the bottom as the water receded.

The Salvage King should be at the scene by shortly after 3 o'clock to-day and it is expected an effort will be made to pull off the stranded ship some time to-day.

CUSTOMS BILL VOTED BY M.P.'S

Third Reading Given Measure Governing Appointment of Staff Members

Ottawa, May 17—Third reading was given by the House yesterday to the Government bill which empowers the Minister of National Revenue to nominate customs appraisers, customs preventive service officers and drawback investigators for appointment by the Civil Service Commission.

The third reading came after defeat by 92 to 76 of an amendment moved by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, that the appointments should be made by the Civil Service Commission. The vote was on straight party lines. The Conservatives, Progressives and U.F.A. and Labor voted for and the Liberals and Liberal-Progressives voted against the amendment.

The bill was then read a third time on the same vote reversed.

It was explained by the Minister of National Revenue during the debate that the changes provided for were recommended in the report of the Customs Inquiry Commission.

FOR VETERANS

While the discussion was in progress an amendment was moved by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, which provided that in the appointment of the officers provided for under the bill, "all qualifications being equal, preference should be given to those who served overseas in the Canadian army or on the high seas in a seagoing ship of war" and who were honorably discharged.

C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, moved as a sub-amendment the insertion of the words "or being resident or domiciled in Canada at the outbreak of the war, served in His Majesty's forces."

The sub-amendment carried and the bill soon was reported from committee and third reading followed.

PENITENTIARY CHANGES URGED

Recommendations Made in Annual Report of Federal Superintendent Hughes

Ottawa, May 17.—A number of recommendations for the improvement of conditions in the penitentiaries of Canada are contained in the annual report of the superintendent, Brig.-Gen. W. St. P. Hughes, for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1927, which has just been published.

During the year reviewed in the report the average prison population was 2,456, an increase of sixty over the year previous. The revenue was the largest ever turned in by the penitentiaries, amounting to $183,004. The year before it was $49,855. There were no escapes from the penitentiaries during the 1926-7 period.

Gen. Hughes's recommendations are:

Reopening of the Criminal Mental Disease Hospital.

Segregation of habitual criminals.

The furnishing of more work for the inmates by the Government.

Payment of wages to well-behaved inmates prior to discharge.

Training of officers before being permitted to take charge of inmates.

Empowering of those in charge of penitentiary administration with authority to administer and discipline on similar basis to that of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Changes in the method of purchasing supplies. This is declared essential in order to attain success in the manufacture of goods in the penitentiaries.

TRAINING NEEDED

In support of these recommendations, the report says:

"The reclaiming by training, educating and reforming of the hundreds of young men who are yearly admitted to the Canadian penitentiaries is surely a most worthy object. It is needless to attempt this, however, unless officers of a high type and specially trained in the knowledge of handling human beings are provided. Example is the best teacher. There is nothing to take the place of proper object lessons. No real progress is possible in the reformation and treatment of the criminal until the difference between one inmate and another is realized and taken into account. This cannot be done by untrained and uneducated officers.

"The dormitory system is not in use in any of the Canadian penitentiaries. The corruption that usually exists in institutions where that system is in use is, therefore, avoided.

FEWER PUNISHMENTS

"Punishments in penitentiaries have been materially reduced. Many inmates are now discharged who have not had any report for infraction of rules and regulations recorded against them during the term of their incarceration. The more punishment awarded in a penitentiary, the stronger the probability the place is badly managed. The inmates' behavior towards the officers will largely be determined by the officers' treatment of the inmates. This is no new discovery. More considerate treatment of the inmates usually results in improved conduct. No progress can result in the treatment or reformation of inmates until the differences between one inmate and another are recognized and taken into account.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK

"All prisoners received at the penitentiaries are accompanied by a commitment commanding the warden to receive them, maintain them in custody for the period mentioned, and keep them at hard labor. The halt, the lame, the blind, and often the imbecile, are sentenced to the penitentiaries at hard labor. It, therefore, behooves the Government to provide sufficient labor at which those sentenced may be employed. Inmates need the upbuilding influence of wholesome, constructive work.

"The penitentiaries have excellent shops, large and well lighted and ventilated, the necessary machinery, the power to operate same, the workmen and qualified instructors in every department; in fact, a complete organization, sufficient to make the penitentiaries self-sustaining if given the Government work they are capable of doing. Why not permit the inmates of Canadian penitentiaries to support themselves and relieve the taxpayers to that extent?

"Sympathetic supervision after discharge should be provided. A man's conduct may be improved while in prison, but how he will behave when liberated is quite and ther matter liberated is quite another matter. He should be guided and assisted to overcome former weaknesses and desires and helped rehabilitate himself in society. When a man has gone wrong it may usually be assumed there is some weakness in him that made him unable to resist certain classes of temptation. He, therefore, for a time, should be guided and assisted after his discharge.

"The control and management of penitentiaries should be placed in the hands of those trained in the service. The Penitentiary Act and regulations should be drafted by these officers. During the last eight years the revision of the Penitentiary Act and regulations has been given a great deal of study and attention, and has been discussed, at length, item by item, at all the conventions penitentiary officers have held. Thirteen wardens, twelve deputy wardens, the superintendent, three inspectors, two penitentiary engineers and the parole officer have agreed on what, in their estimation, should be done in this connection. The first-hand knowledge gained by all these officers through long years of experience in actual contact with the inmates and institutions has eminently fitted them for this work. The average of experience of the above mentioned officers is over twenty years. It would appear recommendations from such a body would be well worth considering."

John O'London Is Newmarket Winner

Newmarket, Eng., May 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—Mrs. Arthur James's colt John O'London won the Payne Stakes here this afternoon by a short head from Lord Rosebery's Cameliford. Lady Ludlow's Sleep Lad was third. The betting was 3 to 1 against, 13 to 8 and 100 to 12.

Seven three-year-olds went the mile and a half of the race, which is known as a test for the Epsom Derby.

LARGE PRICES FOR PICTURES

London, May 17. — Thousands of guineas were being bid every few minutes for pictures in the sale of the final portion of the late Sir George Holford's collection in Christie's rooms here, which were packed with experts.

The total amount realized at to-day's sale was approximately $1,800,000. The biggest price paid up to midafternoon was 48,000 guineas for Rembrandt's Portrait of a Man Holding a Torch Rembrant's Portrait of a Young Man with a Cleft Chin brought 44,000 guineas. Both of these pictures went to Knoedlers.

Rembrandt's Portrait of Mortin Leoten sold for 26,000 guineas, and Albert Cuyp's Dordrecht of the Maas for 20,000 guineas.

IS SUGGESTED CITY CHIEF STAND ASIDE

in a gambling house and consumed liquor there "to secure evidence."

SOURCE OF AID

The commissioner was in the position of having to depend for aid in obtaining evidence on two men who themselves were under investigation, Mr. McGeer contended. He expressed the opinion that any person involved should step down during the investigation.

Mr. Henderson argued there was no direct evidence against either Mayor Taylor or Inspector Jackson, but that Constable Duggan had admitted dereliction of duty.

A. H. MacNeill, K.C., commission counsel, suggested the police commission should deal with Constable Duggan's case and Commissioner Lennie agreed with the suggestion.

CHOW ON STAND

Chow Wong Lum, keeper of a Chinese gambling house, recalled to the stand, reiterated his denial of Wednesday that he had paid protection money to any person.

Asked by Mr. McGeer if he had informed Police Constables Angus Stewart and David Carnes "that Shue Moy, alleged gambling king, had told you that you would have to raise your protection payments from $50 to $150 per month or your place would be closed down," Chow Wong Lum replied: "No."

Asked by Mr. McGeer if he had ever informed his own lawyer "that Shue Moy wanted to raise your protection money," the witness replied in the negative.

The officers swore Chow Wong Lum had told them he had refused to pay more protection money, and that as a result his place at 17 Trounce Alley had been closed.

QUESTIONED ON ACCOUNTS

The Chinaman was cross-examined by Mr. McGeer regarding a number of account books which were entered as exhibits.

"The public never had a chance. It was just plain theft," declared Mr. McGeer when he pointed out that books of Chow Wong Lum's place at Davie Street showed receipts of $9,564 in ten months and winnings paid out in that period of only $2,034.

CONSTABLES CALLED

Mr. McGeer stated he wished permission to take the evidence of Constables David Carnes and Angus Stewart so they could return to their work.

Mr. Lennie had Constable Carnes called. Stewart was excluded from the room when Carnes gave his evidence.

Constable Carnes swore he had visited Chow Wong Lum at the latter's place at 17 Trounce Alley and that he had conversed with him in regard to his gambling business.

"His place was closed up when I visited him," stated Carnes. "Shue Moy's place at the Bodega Hotel, nearby, was running and I asked him why his place was not running like the others. He told me they would not let him, that they had wanted to raise his protection payments from $50 monthly to $150. He said he had refused and they had closed him up.

RECORD OF GAMBLING

Chow Wong Lum was recalled to the stand. He identified a book handed to him by Mr. McGeer as the account book for 17 Trounce Alley, from December, 1927, to January 2, 1928, January 2 to January 18 and January 27 to January 31.

Mr. McGeer asked the witness how long he had been gambling at 17 Trounce Alley.

The witness replied he had operated there in 1925 and 1926. Georgie Chow, he said, was a partner in 1925.

Referring to the book entries from December 3, 1927, till January 2, 1928, Mr. McGeer said:

If you add $1,728.30 to $217.70, the total is $1,946?" asked Mr. McGeer.

The witness replied in the affirmative.

"And your total expenses were $536.35?" asked the barrister.

"Yes."

"Now, if you take the expenses from the income, you have a profit of $1,409.65, as shown in your book?"

"Yes, the accounts must be right," replied the witness through the interpreter.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Telling of the buying of Christmas presents, the witness said he remembered Georgie Chow and he together had bought a diamond for $150. He had bought it out of gambling funds. Georgie had taken the diamond and did not tell the witness what he had done with it.

The witness denied he had gone to the station with Georgie to give the diamond to Sergt. McLaughlin.

The witness admitted one of the books showed his profit in "slow draw" for a month had been $379.

YESTERDAY'S EVIDENCE

At yesterday afternoon's session of the inquiry, Constable H. H. Duggan, who had testified Tuesday, was recalled. Under cross-examination by W. W. B. MacInnes, counsel for Shue Moy, the constable declared that, for the purpose of "getting knowledge," he had frequently played Chinese lotteries, and on one occasion had won $90 on a ten-cent ticket. He had often visited Shue Moy in the latter's Chinatown establishment. He was seeking information, he said, and had drunk liquor with the Chinaman.

ACCOUNTS PRODUCED

During yesterday afternoon account books of an alleged gambling establishment at 615 Davie Street, were brought before the commissioner, revealing regular expense items of $50 monthly from March to September, 1927, and increasing for the three ensuing months to $150.

Chow Wong Lum, a partner in the establishment read from the books, records of incomes, expenses and profits from March, 1927, to March of this year. The total profit for the period, he said, was $3,346.

LUTHERANS HONOR VETERAN PASTOR

Honor was paid to Dr. J. C. and Mrs. Kunzmann who have entered on the fiftieth year of service in the ministry at a luncheon tendered to them at noon to-day at Grace Church by the Pacific Synod of the United Lutheran Church. At the business meeting this morning the Synod adopted the budget of $11,000 for mission work for 1928. Three new congregations were welcomed into membership, Central, Seattle; St. John's, Fairbanks, Alaska, and the American Lutheran Church, Salem, Ore.

It was also decided to set aside 1930 as an educational year with special emphasis on Christian education and the Theological Seminary at Seattle.

BEAVERBROOK'S WAR BOOK OUT

Says Asquith Lost Premiership Because of Churchill-Fisher Dispute

London, May 17.—When Lord Beaverbrook's book, "Politicians and the War" was published here to-day, those interested in the personality of the author were disappointed to learn he had rigidly cut out all accounts of his own activities. Neither has he mentioned anything in the way of Cabinet secrets not already revealed.

The readers also are deprived of enlightenment from the author concerning the Ministry of Information, of which he was the head.

CHANGE OF MINISTRY

Lork Beaverbrook insists it was the quarrel between Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty, and Admiral Lord Fisher that caused the fall of the Asquith Liberal Government, the change not being due to the campaign of the newspapers owned by the late Lord Northcliffe against the Asquith administration because of the shell shortage. Lord Beaverbrook reveals, or rather confirms, the fact that Lord Fisher was merely discontended over his relations with Churchill, but with his own position, which he regarded as comparing unfavorably with that of Lord Kitchener.

Lord Beaverbrook is severe in his book upon Mr. Asquith's methods of forming the first coalition government, especially Mr. Asquith's attitude towards Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, who was prevented from becoming either Chancellor of the Exchequer or Minister of Munitions. "Later on," says the author, "Asquith and his friends had to pay a bitter price for joining in a game which tended to depreciate Bonar Law's status in his own party and weaken his authority over it.

"The Premier," he says, "hopelessly under-rated Law's talents and character from start to finish of the coalition."

LEGATION RUMOR NOT CONFIRMED

Washington, May 17.—The Japanese Embassy here has no knowledge of the rumor that Sethuzo Sawada, counsellor of the Embassy here, will be appointed Minister to Canada. The rumor reached here in a Tokio newspaper.

M. Sawada yesterday informed the Canadian Press he had no information from his Government. He was appointed charge d'affaires here during the absence of Ambassador Matsudaira, who is to go to Tokio for six months, and he understands he will remain here for that period in charge of the Embassy.

CHANGES IN PAINT DUTIES ARGUED

Tariff Board Hears Statements For and Against Reduction in Levy

Ottawa, May 17—The Tariff Advisory Board yesterday considered the application of the Consumers' League of Canada that the tariff on paints be reduced by approximately one-third. The application was presented to the board by R. J. Deachman, counsel for the league.

"The paint manufacturer is in a singularly fortunate position," said Mr. Deachman. "Most of his raw material is imported free of duty. On the finished product the duty runs as high as 37½ per cent. The nature of the competition is not such as calls for the present exorbitant tariff."

He argued the protection on paints made this commodity very high priced in this country. It was to the general benefit of the people of Canada that point prices should be low to encourage general use of paint not only for preserving the buildings of the country, but also in improving the appearance of the homes of Canadians.

Chairman W. J. Moore ruled that various other references regarding the tariff on paints should be considered along with the one from the league.

WHITE PIGMENTS

On behalf of an English firm, L. M. Chesley of Montreal asked that oxide of antimony be placed on the same footing as other similar white pigments which entered free of duty under the British preference. On the other hand the Titanium Limited, Montreal, submitted a request that the duty on white pigment be increased to equal that on dry white lead, in order that the pigment industry in Canada might be developed.

The linseed oil manufacturers submitted an application that linseed oil crushed in Great Britain should not be admitted into Canada under the British preference rate because eighty-five per cent of the flax seed used there came from Argentina.

The brief set forth that while Western Canada grows many times more flax seed than would be required to meet the needs of Canadian crushers, nearly all of it goes to the United States and Canadian mills get considerable of their supplies from Argentina.

Another brief was submitted opposing any reduction in the duty on Paris green.

MANUFACTURERS HEARD

At the afternoon session it was maintained that without protection, the manufacturers of paints could not hold their market against British producers. The lead pigment used by British firms was secured more cheaply through the Panama Canal, going as ballast, than eastern Canadian firms could get it by rail.

W. B. McLaren, Ottawa, representing about fifty per cent of the paint manufacturers of Canada, opposed the application of the league.

Reduction of the tariff on insulating materials was urged at the afternoon session also. Wall board manufacturers opposed the application. They claimed tests proved the superiority of their articles to those made in the United States, the prices being as cheap. An increase from 17½ to 25 per cent was urged instead of a reduction. The United States tariff is twenty-five per cent. Increased competition would increase consumption of wall boards, it was declared.

$7,000 SUIT IS DISMISSED

Fernie, May 17.—On testimony of Mrs. Lavoratta of Vancouver, that she had seen a man light a match to a hay shed at Natal, Mr. Justice Murphy yesterday dismissed the suit of D. M. Wolianky for $7,000 damages against the Canadian Pacific Railway for destruction of a hotel owned by him at Natal.

The hotel burned last August. Wolianky claimed the burning of the hotel was caused by flames spreading from a hay shed on the railway right of way, alleging the original fire in the hay shed was caused by a spark from a passing train.

VICTORIA AS AN AIRPORT

IT IS GRATIFYING TO NOTE THE ATTENTION Victoria is attracting by reason of the facilities which it offers for the establishment of an airport. No doubt this very largely is due to the fact that it is on the United States aerial mail circuit—the only point in Western Canada which enjoys this distinction. The waters of the inner harbor offer safe landings for seaplanes, while the present aerodrome on Lansdowne Road already is a going concern. As aerial travel in this part of the country grows other suitable land, of course, could be made available.

Apart from the purely commercial aspect we may assume that the day is not far distant when aerial excursions over the most picturesque sections of Vancouver Island will be new attractions to be added to the many others which continue to draw the tourist to this part of the province. Already the beauty of the view from the Malahat has made a reputation for itself far and wide, while we can imagine that the almost unparalleled panorama to be obtained from the air soon would establish fresh fame for that part of the Island. Another important development the early future no doubt will witness will be the establishment of an air mail service to connect with incoming and outgoing liners similar to that which already has been inaugurated between Montreal and Rimouski.

Incidentally, the local organization which now is making its plans for a triangular service through the air between this city and Vancouver and Seattle is to be congratulated upon its enterprise. It is to be hoped the promoters of the undertaking will get the support to which their initiative entitles them. Such a service obviously will create widespread interest and serve as an excellent advertisement for the whole of this Pacific Northwest area.

EXPERIMENTS ON MONKEYS

A FEW DAYS AGO A NEWS DISPATCH told us that scientists in one of the big centres of the continent planned to conduct a series of intensive experiments upon apes with the object of learning more if possible about criminal tendencies in human beings and how to combat them by scientific means. The monkeys will be given certain chemical compounds which it is expected will make them vicious. The gentle domesticated ape, for example, will be converted into the simian counterpart of a human thug. The animals, of course, will be confined in cages where they will be closely watched.

There is about as much prospect of those monkeys enlightening the professors on the tendencies of the human family in regard to crime and disease as there is of the professors enlightening the monkeys on their own peculiar tendencies as manifested by this experiment. In the first place, the proper locality in which to study simian mental reactions is not cages but the jungle where the monkey lives, where he pursues his normal activities, sets up his domestic establishment, performs his social duties and, perhaps, feels free at times to consider without restraint the eccentricities of the human family, including professors. You cannot learn much about the mentality of a criminal when he is in jail. The proper place in which to study him is the underworld jungle where he is not under restraint. The fact that monkeys in zoos and menageries can be trained to act like human beings, not excluding some scientists, need not imply that in this environment they are fit subjects for investigation.

We suggest that the investigators send a select committee to the wilds of South Africa and try their experiments upon a few healthy gorillas, who more closely resemble the human species than any other members of the ape family. They would find the process not only educative but quite thrilling. The professor who endeavored to administer to one of them any potation intended to make this particular anthropoid more criminally inclined would find him quite bad enough before he got the dose and the professor himself would become an immediate martyr to science. That gorilla would dissect him as minutely as he ever dissected a guinea pig in his laboratory, not omitting even the professorial glands.

Mankind should not take too many liberties with monkeykind, because some day the relations between the two species may be reversed. If there is anything in the theory that man descended from the ape there always is the possibility that he will eventually revert to type. Some cynics claim that not a few of the tendencies of modern civilization suggest that he is going in that direction now. Some day, therefore, the monkeys of the world may be on top, and may have an opportunity of inflicting upon our professors some of the scientific experiments which it is proposed to try out upon them now. Our picture may be somewhat overdrawn, but it is not too harrowing to be contemplated with a certain amount of satisfaction by believers in the gospel of a square deal—even to monkeys.

THE LATE MR. KIRK

A WIDE CIRCLE OF FRIENDS IN THIS community will regret to learn of the death of Mr. G. A. Kirk which occurred in London yesterday. He had taken a leisurely trip to the Old Country by way of the Panama Canal in the hope that a complete change and rest would benefit his health, which has not been good for some time; but unfortunately he was not destined again to see the city where he had spent the greater part of his life and to whose service in many ways he had so unselfishly devoted himself.

Mr. Kirk was a sterling citizen, loyal, genial and a willing supporter of all good works. His association with the Board of Trade, of which he once was president, was fraught with material benefit to the community. He also was a keen man of business, thoroughly conversant with the trade and commerce of this community, while his good sportsmanship enhanced his popularity with all with whom he came in contact. He leaves the memory of a life well lived. The Times extends its sympathy to the relatives in their bereavement.

CONFOUNDING THE SCEPTICS

LESS THAN TWENTY YEARS AGO there were sceptics who declared in the most emphatic manner that the heavier-than-air machine would be a "hopeless failure," that it could never fly for any considerable time, and that it would be foolish to expect it to. Some of these scoffers continued to make such predictions even after the initial experimental stage had been passed and many successful flights made.

In less than ten years afterwards Alcock and Brown crossed the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland in one of these "hopeless failures" in just a little more than sixteen hours. Then everybody remembers the memorable flight which Keith Smith and Ross Smith made to Australia, for which both were knighted, the long and hazardous pioneering ventures of Sir Alan Cobham, the mechanical and physical triumphs in Schneider Cup contests, the polar flight of Commander Byrd, and others less spectacular. After these came Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Hinkler, and more recently Koehl and Fitzmaurice in the Bremen—the first of the heavier-than-air type to negotiate the westward Atlantic journey. With these, of course, also must be put the "four-continent" flight of Commander de Pinedo.

Although war production materially increased the development of the heavier-than-air machine, long before that, it will be recalled, the future of this kind of craft had been assured. Five years before the great conflict began Bleriot thrilled the world by crossing the English Channel in his frail "bus." During the struggle flyers of all nations, and particularly the pilots which Canada supplied to the Royal Air Force, performed feats that a few years previously had seemed next to impossible.

These achievements and those that have been written on the post-war record, however, are by no means all. Men are expected to do the things to which we have referred; but the women now are taking a final fling at those who condemned the heavier-than-air machine as a "hopeless failure." Lady Heath to-day has completed a solo flight in a small machine from Capetown to London. This is a little jaunt of about ten thousand miles. True, the authorities would not let her fly over the Sudan without an escort; but she was not to be thwarted in her venture. The escort merely flew alongside her in his own machine. Lady Heath remained alone at the controls of her own tiny craft.

Incidentally, a "Moth" has been flown by a woman in Great Britain to an altitude of more than thirty thousand feet. With all these achievements matters of record, therefore, most of the thrills of aviation, commercially at any rate, already have been experienced.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A PIONEER FLIGHT

From The New York Times

Columbus did more than discover America. It was he who first observed the fluctuations of the compass needle on his first transatlantic voyage and thus laid the basis of modern scientific navigation. So the fliers who have soared through the atmosphere between the Old World and the new are laying the foundations of those practical meteorological and navigational sciences which must be applied if our dreams of regular transatlantic passenger flying are to come true.

SCIENCE FELLOWSHIP IN CHINA

(From The Peking Leader)

The latest move which the China Foundation for Promotion of Education and Culture has made in regard to the encouragement of scientific research is the establishment of fifteen fellowships and three annual prizes. Of the fifteen fellowships, five yield from $3,000 to $4,000 silver and ten from $1,000 to $2,000 silver a year per fellowship.

The first kind of fellowship is instituted for the benefit of those who have already done notable work in scientific research and who wish to continue in it. The second kind of fellowship is established for the benefit of those who have graduated from collegiate institutions of recognized standing in China or abroad and who have a desire to do scientific research work and are so recommended by their professors under whom that work is to be done.

JUST AS HAPPY

To the Editor—In your leading article of the 14th inst. under the heading "An Erring Bishop," in the absence of the full text of what the Bishop of Guildford may have said concerning the absence of religious teaching in this Province, your readers must withhold their judgment or be satisfied with what the "omniscient we" had to say about the foolish bishop. In that same article of yours you assert that the people here are much happier than in the Old Country! The writer questions that statement. When returning to England from several corners of the globe on different occasions he has always been much impressed with the happy disposition of the English people. It is to be seen in their faces and it shows itself in many ways besides. In all countries where unemployment exists or where certain industries or trades may be working under unfavorable conditions, unhappiness is bound to exist, but, taking it as a whole, the people generally in the Mother Country—despite a rigorous climate in some parts and a heavy burden of taxation—are every bit as happy as we are in this Province and God bless 'em for it!

DIPHTHERIA TREATMENT

To the Editor:—I have just read an article, published under the aegis of medical authorities, in favor of so-called immunization against diphtheria. The inference is that persons "immunized" by toxoid anti-toxin are not liable to attacks of diphtheria and that the treatment is quite safe.

There was a recent tragedy in Bundaberg, Australia, when twelve children were killed and others rendered seriously ill as a result of the immunizing process. In Texas, in 1919, a similar tragedy was enacted. In 1924 there was severe illness among "protected" children in Massachusetts. In 1924 there were six deaths in Vienna from the same cause and Austria has forbidden the use of the treatment. Before me is a seemingly endless record of illness and death as a result of serum treatment. The journal of the American Medical Association of January 28, 1928, has an article by P. S. Rhoads, M.D., which states that between September 2 and December 17, 1926, nine cases of diphtheria developed among protected nurses of the Illinois Training School.

In the same journal for June 4, 1921, we find: "An experience in a carefully supervised orphan asylum has taught us that diphtheria in epidemic form can occur among immunized children. . . ." And again, November 4, 1922, Dr. W. H. Thaler of St. Louis says: "There was one child in one block in one of the school districts who received toxin anti-toxin and he was the only child in the block who contracted diphtheria."

Truly significant, however, is the speech of M. Pfeiffenberger, M.D., president of the Illinois State Society (December 3-4, 1926):

"Prevention practiced to its utmost will create more work for the physician and not diminish it; for the full time health officer will be educating his community constantly. There will be more vaccination, more immunizing, more consulting and use of the physician. His services would be increased many fold. I am informed that epidemic and endemic infections cause only 12 per cent of all deaths and that this percentage is declining very rapidly. Only 15 per cent of all children would ever get diphtheria, even under epidemic conditions, while 100 per cent are prospects for toxin anti-toxin. . . ."

In 1926 it was suggested that a three-year campaign be made against diphtheria in this Dominion. Experiments made with toxin anti-toxin do not show any decreases in the number of deaths from the disease. The death rate shows: 1924, 45; 1925, 63; 1926, 89; 1927, 114.

In New York City, with an increased use of the immunization process, the death rate from diphtheria is higher than in localities where protection is not used. A careful survey of the question of serumization should prove that health is not built up by poisoning our blood stream with products of diseased and tortured animals. Why, indeed, should we expect health from such unscientific and unethical processes?

IMMIGRATION PERMIT TALK IS CLEARED UP

Hon. R. Forke Tells M.P.'s He Made no Mention of Hon. E. J. McMurray's Name

Conversation Minister Had With Ald. Coldwell of Regina Is Recalled

Ottawa, May 17.—Emphatic denial of any knowledge that Hon. E. J. McMurray, former Solicitor-General, had trafficked in special immigration permits was made at the parliamentary immigration inquiry yesterday afternoon's session of the Commons immigration committee by Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration.

"I can state emphatically that I did not make any of the statements which Mr. Coldwell says I made about Mr. McMurray," Mr. Forke declared in referring to the statement made Tuesday by Alderman M. J. Coldwell of Regina that Mr. Forke had named Mr. McMurray in this connection. "Mr. McMurray's election was in 1925, two years before I came into the department," Mr. Forke continued, "and I know nothing about Mr. McMurray's transactions with the department, if any took place, and since I came into the department I have had no dealings with Mr. McMurray, directly or indirectly."

NO LETTERS WRITTEN

"Regarding Mr. Coldwell's statement about my telling him I had checked up the records of the department regarding the number of permits issued by my predecessors, and that I said I had written my predecessor and that he had written his predecessor, I want to say positively that if Mr. Coldwell got this information at all he did not get it from me," Mr. Forke continued. "At no time did I ever examine or check up the previous records of the department in regard to the number of permits issued by my predecessors. I have no knowledge of the number of permits issued to them and did not write to any predecessor in connection with the number of permits which had been issued."

CONVERSATION IN OTTAWA

Mr. Forke told the committee he had met Mr. Coldwell in Regina during the campaign of 1925. As Progressive leader, Mr. Forke had spoken on Mr. Coldwell's behalf as Mr. Coldwell was then a Progressive candidate for Parliament. In March, 1927, he had had a personal conversation with Mr. Coldwell in Ottawa. Mr. Coldwell at the time had approached Mr. Forke to explain that he (Mr. Coldwell) had no connection with the request for permits made by a young lawyer, to whom Mr. Coldwell had given a letter of introduction to Mr. Forke.

In this general and personal conversation, Mr. Forke said he had mentioned to Alderman Coldwell some of the difficulties in regard to issuing permits.

"I expressed my desire that there should be nothing in connection with my conduct of affairs that would not be absolutely correct," Mr. Forke stated.

NO GENERAL TRAFFICKING

"In reference to any conversation about general trafficking in permits," continued Mr. Forke, "when I came into the department I knew nothing about it whatever, but soon after I came in a case came up where a young man admitted to me he was getting $100 and that put me on my guard, and perhaps made me suspicious of all applications in large numbers. I had no knowledge that there was general trafficking, but I just thought if this young man could get $100 for these permits, why might it not be that other people who were applying could do the same thing? That was the only idea I had of general trafficking, and it was in this connection that I explained to Mr. Coldwell how careful I had to be. I can say now that I had no knowledge, by admission or otherwise, of any case but this one, in which money was being received for permits."

Hon. E. J. McMurray has not been a member of the House since the general election of 1925.

Pimples Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"I had a breaking out of pimples on my face, neck, shoulders and arms. They itched and burned so badly that I had to scratch, causing severe irritation. My clothing aggravated the eruptions terribly, and I could not sleep on account of the irritation. My face was terribly disfigured. The trouble lasted about four months.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After about the fifth application there was a marked improvement so I purchased more, and in four weeks I was healed." (Signed) Miss Millie Dickout, Brown's Brae, Ont., Sept. 16, 1927.

DUMP AMENDMENT REJECTED

Ottawa, May 17. — A Conservative anti-dumping amendment of supply was defeated in the House yesterday by a vote of 110 to 59. The amendment was moved on Monday by R. K. Anderson, Conservative, Halton, Ont., and was that the Government should take action effectively to control the importation into Canada of natural products, of a class or kind produced in Canada, under conditions that operate to the detriment of the Canadian producers.

Institute Women Discuss Anomalies Of Criminal Code

Strawberry Vale W.I. Says Theft of Cow Means Fifteen Years; Theft of Girl's Honor, Five; Mrs. Frank Campbell Re-elected President at Closing Session; Legislation Reviewed

(By Times Representative)

Duncan, May 16—Five years is the penalty prescribed in the Criminal Code for the stealing of a girl's honor, but for stealing a cow a man is liable to a penalty of fourteen years.

This anomaly in the existing code was brought before the Islands Institutes yesterday with the recommendation by the Strawberry Vale W.I. that the Criminal Code be amended in order that punishment for offenders might be meted out in accordance with the gravity of the offence.

REPORT ON LEGISLATION

The matter was brought up in connection with the excellent report on legislation presented by the convener, Mrs. Wace. She had sent out a questionnaire to the institutes, the answers showing that thirteen out of the sixteen institutes had considered the humane legislation of British Columbia as part of their programme of work.

Fifteen have secured copies of the acts concerning women and children; ten have received copies of the votes and proceedings of the Legislature while in session; fifteen have considered the study of the Public Schools Act and the election of school trustees.

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE

Recommendations came from Shirley, Victoria, Cobble Hill, McKenzie and Langford that state health insurance and maternity benefits be passed by law.

Valdez Island recommended that farm work should be made easy for women by having electricity supplied wherever possible.

EQUAL PARTNERSHIP

The discussion on the legislation subject was led by Mrs. F. Campbell and taken up by many present.

Mrs. Campbell pointed out that British Columbia led all Canada in social legislation. Before asking for new legislation the institutes should consider three things: 1, That it was needed; 2, That it would help the majority rather than the few; 3, What it was going to cost and who would pay.

They should remember that the women, as taxpayers, were among the people who paid. There was no doubt that some system of state health insurance and maternity benefits would encourage rural settlements.

Mrs. T. C. Robson (Vimy), recommended that in order to make rural life more attractive to women, a law be framed similar to that in three Scandinavian countries, viz.: Equal partnership of goods and chattels after marriage.

MRS. MURRAY RETIRES

Mrs. Margaret Murray of Vancouver announcing her resignation from the secretaryship of the Provincial Institute Board in order that she might concentrate on marketing and advertising of British Columbia women's home-crafts, reported the splendid results of the recent quilt exhibition at the Hudson's Bay Company's store, Vancouver. More than 14,000 people, each one a potential purchaser, had seen the collection of 580 quilts. She took entire personal responsibility for the folder issued in connection with the exhibition.

Miss McLenaghan, Provincial Supervisor of Home Economics, gave an interesting address, her subject being "Home Economics" and Mrs. J. L. Brown read the report on this subject.

JUNIOR JUDGING

Mrs. R. E. Nimmo gave a report on "Junior Judging."

Appointed last May at the Chilliwack conference as representative of the Islands District Women's Institute, she had circularized the institutes and worked up classes in these subjects at the various institutes. Miss Blankenbach, Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. MacLachlan acting as instructors. Zeta Service of Lake Hill and Janet Sherring of South Saanich were finally selected from the elimination classes as the Red Letter Days

By Edna Wallace Hopper

For very special occasions, "when one simply must look her best" the skin needs freshening and toning. And a "facial" comes to the rescue.

Some women look young and carefully groomed for a night or two. Then their skin gradually lapses back into muddy, dull hue ... until another important event.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

You can give your face the firm, flawless tone of youth. You should keep it in this condition, not only for important engagements but every day because you're just as closely scrutinized day in and day out.

This is the simple treatment I have found really necessary for youthful skin:

Apply my White Youth Clay once a week, twice a month or as often as your skin requires. After washing it off you will feel the pleasant sensation of a real astringent. The clay rids your skin of blackheads and similar blemishes, gently purging the pores of their accumulated impurities which sometimes sink so deep, especially in oily skins.

My White Youth Clay is the only dainty, agreeable clay pack I know. You can get it at any toilet counter. (Advt.)

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERTS FOR MEMBERS ONLY

Annual Meeting Adopts New Policy For Monthly Recitals; Executive Chosen

In future the monthly recitals of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club will be open only to members and their out-of-town guests, on payment of a small admission fee. This decision, which will exclude the general public from the club recitals only and will not affect the professional artists' series, followed the introduction by Mrs. D. B. McConnan of a motion to the effect that "Members will be privileged to invite out-of-town guests only to concerts by paying an admission fee."

The lengthy discussion elicited the opinion that in the past the attendance of the general public had been so variable and erratic as to make the financing of the monthly recitals a difficult matter. It was felt that were these concerts given exclusively for the club members, it would stimulate the entrance of new members and at the same time tend to encourage more active participation by the members in the recitals.

Another matter which created much discussion was the suggestion by Mrs. D. E. Campbell that the club recitals be held in the afternoon only, but this was defeated, and Mrs. Senkler's motion that the concerts be given alternately in the afternoon and evening carried.

NEW EXECUTIVE

Next year's executive chosen at the meeting included: Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. B. Tyrwhitt Drake, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. F. Leeder, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. R. Nash, Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Mrs. G. A. Bucklin, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Miss Alexander, Mrs. Gideon Hicks, Mrs. F. D. Brae, Mrs. H. Hamlet and Mrs. G. G. Bushby. These will elect their officers later.

Mrs. B. Tyrwhitt Drake, vice-president, took the chair in the absence of Mrs. J. O. Cameron. Mrs. Cameron is at present in California in the interests of her health and a telegram was read from her stating her regret at being unable to attend the annual meeting, and expressing her thanks to the executive and committees for their loyal

SMART WEDDING IN VANCOUVER

Miss Violet Holt Married to Capt. M. Haines of India

Vancouver, May 17.—The most brilliant social event of the early Summer took place on Tuesday afternoon at St. James's Parish Church, when Violet, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grange V. Holt, was united in marriage to Captain Maurice Haines, 3rd Battalion Royal Garhwal Rifles, younger son of the late W. Haines, M.A., Oxon., and Mrs. Haines of London. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock, the marriage services of the Anglican Church being performed by Rev. Father W. Cooper.

Quantities of Spring flowers made an unusually beautiful setting for the event. White lilacs and pink tulips were placed on the altar and bridal wreath, pink hydrangea, syringa, lilacs and tulips exquisitely marked the rood screen and chancel stalls.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in an exquisite robe de style of ivory satin. The tight-fitting long-sleeved bodice was finished at the neck with a yoke of old rose point lace worn by her grandmother and the soft folds of the gathered skirt fell almost to her ankles.

From the shoulders fell a long court train of satin laced with chiffon, over which was draped an exquisite piece of rare hand-run heirloom lace, worn by her great-grandmother, which reached to the end of the train and fell in soft cascades at the sides. The bridal veil and the shorter face veil were held in place by a chaplet of pearls, confined at each side by a rosette of pearls and brilliants. She carried a large, round bouquet of lily of the valley and white satin ribbon, fully shewered.

The bride was preceded by her attendants, Miss Jo Holt as maid of honor; Mrs. Claude McAlpine and Miss Sheila Russell, and by three little flower girls, Miss Barbara and Miss Esme Townley and tiny Miss Elizabeth Woodward; while Mr. Aeneas Bell-Irving acted as groomsman.

The frocks of the attendants were in most effective colorings, composed of silk net in graduated tucks, shaded from a deep cerise at the hem of the bouffant skirt to palest flush pink in the transparent yoke of the tight-fitting and long-sleeved bodice. A large bow of wide velvet ribbon with long ends ornamented the skirt, and the becoming picture hats were of transparent straw trimmed with a flat banding and bow of velvet ribbon in the deeper shades. They carried round bouquets of deep pink tulips and sweet peas. The little bridesmaids were dainty figures in their period frocks of nude pink organdie with frilled skirts and pantelettes, silk mitts and silver slippers. The brims of their tiny poke bonnets and the flowers in their early Victorian bouquets were of deep cerise, while Miss Elizabeth Woodward carried a basket of heart-shaped petals to be strewn in the bride's pathway.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Selkirk Avenue, to which a large number of guests had been invited, the bridal party receiving on the lawn.

Captain and Mrs. Haines left for their wedding journey, the bride traveling in a smart three-piece ensemble in Oxford and Cambridge colorings, with hat of grey felt and blue straw.

Captain Haines will not rejoin his regiment, which is at present stationed at Kohat, northwest frontier, until September, and will, with Mrs. Haines, spend a portion of the intervening period in Vancouver.

Miss Agnew to Speak At Y.M.C.A. Friday

Miss Agnew, who recently returned from a most interesting trip to South America, will describe her experiences and impressions of the tour at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Agnew will repeat the address which she gave before the Women's Canadian Club on this subject recently, and which contained many vivid word pictures of the life and scenic beauties of the Southern continent. She will also show a number of interesting souvenirs of the trip. A small charge will be made in aid of the funds of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, and tickets may be obtained at Fletcher Bros. or at the door.

FASHION PLAQUE

Monograms are now to be found on everything in Milady's wardrobe. On shoes they are seen in chic metal buckles, simply designed.

J. W. Watson, vicar of Christ Church, Folkestone, England. Service was conducted by Rev. N. E. Smith, assisted by the Rev. F. H. Fatt, and at the family plot Ross Bay cemetery by the Rev. F. H. Fatt. Pallbearers were Rev. F. V. Venables (son-in-law), Capt. Harry Mellin (nephew), Mr. Speck, Mr. McKim, Laurence Gardom and Basil Gardom. The rest of the family present were daughters, Mrs. E. C. Simmons, Mrs. F. V. Venables, Mrs. A. R. Price and grandson, Denys Simmons. Y.W.C.A. Annual Meeting.—The annual meeting of the Y.W.C.A. will be held at the building, corner of Courtney and Broughton Streets, on Friday evening at 8 p.m. Officers will be elected and a new constitution adopted.

"It's Better!" Says Mrs. Mackenzie of Toronto

"My grocer praised Rinso, so I thought I'd try a package and see if it was as good as he said. It's better! Rinso makes such rich, safe, suds that when I take the clothes out of the washer they're whiter and newer-looking than ever. Even the most soiled pieces become spotless with only a tiny bit of rubbing. No wonder I have the clothes on the line so early now. Rinso is great for cleaning dishes, floors and sinks, too! No wonder I'm getting all my friends to use it!"
Mrs. F. R. Mackenzie,
147 Sherwood Ave., Toronto.

Science gives you a whiter wash—and saves you hours of hard work as well

WHEN Science said, "Here, in Rinso, is a way to make clothes white with no boiling and little or no rubbing," women were skeptical. It seemed too good to be true. But once they tried Rinso they joyfully agreed that science was right. Rinso brought them a glad freedom from wash day toiling and and gave them clean, white, fragrantly-fresh clothes such as every woman loves.

Rinso makes rich suds which soak out the dirt and grime. No boiling, just a gentle rub here and there and clothes are whiter than scrubbing can make them. Hours are saved, clothes last longer, work is made lighter.

Science is waiting in every package of Rinso to give you the surest wash day help the world has ever known.

BEAUTY
* * *
How and Why

By ANN ALYSIS

Hair that is dull and dry is anything but good looking. So women that possess that kind must find a remedy.

The reason for this dryness lies in the fact that the oil glands are not functioning properly, or that the natural oil has been removed in the process of washing and shampooing. Soaps, which often contain an excess of alkali, combine with and extract the oil of the hair, and for days afterward the locks suffer for want of natural dressing.

To replace this oil with something similar until nature has had time to manufacture more of her own brand, try rubbing in a plain oil such as olive, petrolatum, or still better a brilliantine, which is easier to apply on account of its thinner consistency.

Brilliantine, you know, is made by combining castor oil with alcohol, in the proportion of one part oil to two parts grain alcohol. A very nice and also an economical method is to put the brilliantine in an atomizer, and sprays it on the hair. This gives an even and uniform application and the hair has a lovely, lustrous appearance when it is dressed.

support and help during the past year. On the motion of Mrs. J. Hebden Gillespie an expression of good wishes for a speedy recovery and return to Victoria was sent to Mrs. Cameron, whose unfailing interest had done so much toward furthering the club's activities and endeavors.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Mrs. F. G. Aldous read the secretary's report stating that during the year there had been eight regular and five special meetings. In August Mrs. Cameron had appointed committees which were as follows: Programme convener, Mrs. Drake; convener of programmes for teas and philanthropic work, Mrs. McConnan; professional work convener, Mrs. Campbell; membership convener, Mrs. Nash; teas convener, Mrs. Wilson. Each convener had an assisting committee. An expression of appreciation had been made to Miss Eva Hart, one of the most prominent members of the club, this presentation taking the form of a substantial cheque.

ACTIVE YEAR

In her report as programme convener, Mrs. B. Tyrwhitt Drake referred to the constant endeavor of the committee to carry out one of the objects of the club in promoting the art of music in young local artists.

The season had opened with a recital by Miss Margaret Campbell, Miss Irene Bick, violinist, with Miss Eileen Dumbleton as her accompanist, had also been heard and appreciated. A number of local artists had been heard in November, and Mr. Belagno had given a recital in December. The usual students' recital had been given in January. Miss Connie Elford had been heard at the February recital, and the concert at which Miss Vivien Moggey, assisted by Mr. Bayard Haddock of Vancouver had appeared, had been one of the most popular. Mrs. Hebden Gillespie had given her lecture on Wagner's "Parsifal." Programmes had been provided for the National Council of Women and also for the Y.M.C.A. during the past season.

FINANCES SOUND

Mrs. R. Nash submitted the treasurer's report which showed that the club's receipts amounted to $1,895.95; membership fees, $371; bank interest, $6.19; guests at concerts, $241.50; profit from professional concerts, $636.56, showing a balance on hand of $972.34.

The professional account showed income amounting to $5,703.98, including sale of tickets (including season tickets) $5,389.25, and bank interest, $29.21.

THE SMALL RUNAWAY NEEDS TO BE RESTRAINED

Mrs. E. M. B.:

"Would you please tell me how to cure a three and one-half year old boy from running away? A scolding goes in one ear and out the other. He has lots to play with, but tires of them so easily. We live in a small town, and running to the neighbors isn't so bad, but he has gone down town and this frightens me."

ANSWER

A child of this age cannot remember verbal directions for any length of time, so your instructions to stay in the yard do go in one ear and out of the other. Punishment is no better, as it is wrong to punish a child for what he is incapable of remembering, isn't it? Give him toys that he will find interesting, like wagons; toys on which to ride, a teeter-totter, a swing and a ball. Try and find the time to stay close enough to where he is so that you can stop him when he starts away. He's only a baby and needs watching; he is too young to be put on his own responsibility to mind.

Mrs. W. H. S. writes:

"My eighteen-months-old baby can do all the things you said another child eighteen months older could do. She sleeps only two hours in the daytime and cries from ten to fifteen minutes every night. She is not "broken," and scoldings and whippings do no good. She hardly eats a thing and can't be made to. She will only play with her toys when someone entertains her with them."

ANSWER

Everything or anything is likely to be wrong when a child's diet is awry. Your first duty is to discover the feeding error that may be spoiling her appetite. Food between meals, the wrong food, too much sugar or too many sweet things, too much milk and not enough of other foods, all may be responsible for her poor appetite.

Whippings never do any good in training for a good habit; they do just the opposite and train a child against it. I would get the diet right, and then expect that the child's toys will have some interest for her. You may have leaflets on sensible toys for children, feeding and training to the stool, for only a self-addressed and stamped envelope and a request for them.

DR. FRY SPEAKS TO LUTHERANS

New York Churchman Gives Talk to Pacific Synod

In his address at Grace Church last evening, Dr. Franklin F. Fry of New York, executive secretary of the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church, stated that brotherhood was not theory but action.

This brotherhood, the lecturer said, was made up of a fleet of ships, friendship, fellowship, partnership, stewardship, leadership, hardship and worship. The brotherhood of the church was an encouraging influence in the life of clergymen and inspired them in their allegiance to Christ, the supreme leader. In brotherhood they found the assistance which all men desired.

Rev. Theodore A. Jansen announced the service arranged for Friday will be held to-night after the ordinary service. This morning's meeting was opened by Rev. W. F. Holl at 9 o'clock. At noon a dinner was given in honor of Dr. J. C. Kunzmann, who has spent fifty years in the service of the Lutheran Church.

Dr. P. W. H. Frederick, the Dean of the Pacific Theological Seminary, near the University of Washington, was re-elected president. In the past Dr. Frederick has been a professor of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Chicago and president of the California Synod of the United Lutheran Church.

Five members applied for admission into the synod during the ministerium which was held at 2 o'clock. The laymen's meeting, which took place at the same time, was well attended by representatives from all parts of the synod. Robert Sams, president, and A. White, secretary, represented the local brotherhood. The following officers were elected by the synodical organization: President, Theo. A. Jansen; vice-president, O. A. Bergman; secretary, E. J. Paulson; treasurer, William Schnelhardt, all of Seattle.

INSTITUTE WOMEN DISCUSS ANOMALIES OF CRIMINAL CODE

Island representatives in the provincial competition. Letters from each of these girls were read, telling of the help they had received from going into the competition.

WREATH ON MEMORIAL

Reports of their work done during the year were read by Mrs. S. Goodall, Colwood; Mrs. Greig, Qualicum; Mrs. Peden, Victoria; Mrs. Morton, Valdez; Mrs. Snodgrass, Mackenzie; Mrs. Parnell, Hornby Island; Mrs. H. K. Harrison, Parksville, and Mrs. Haddon, West Saanich.

On a suggestion made by Mrs. Booth, a collection was taken up amongst the visiting delegates and a handsome floral tribute was placed on the war memorial.

For this kindly thought the Cowichan women gave them a very hearty vote of thanks.

Mrs. McVicker of Metchosin read an interesting report of public health and child welfare, written by Mrs. Taylor, Metchosin.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions included one from Lake Hill regarding employment of married women, which was not endorsed.

The matter of a memorial to the founder of Women's Institutes, Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless of Ontario, was heartily endorsed.

The recommendation to the Department of Agriculture that the district board be given legal status caused considerable discussion. It was keenly felt by most of those present that some part of the grant for institute work allotted to the Department of Agriculture each year should go towards the expenses of the Islands district board.

Mrs. MacLachlan, provincial superintendent, claimed that the district institutes already enjoyed "permissive legislation." The Shirley delegate said that they felt the district board was much nearer to them than the provincial board. Mrs. Frank Campbell pressed for consideration of the essential point; did they consider it desirable to get legal status for the district board?

Mrs. Campbell said that in the present status of the district board she, as president, had no legal status in visiting the district institutes; she could have only personal connection with them. Mrs. Booth recalled that institutes on the mainland contributed a certain sum annually to the district board for the purpose of meeting expenses entailed by the latter.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

The report on immigration given by Mrs. Taylor, Qualicum, contained much of interest. There seemed to be no official statistics of the present population of B.C. in any particular. It was possible, however, to get a fairly close approximation of the Oriental population of B.C. at say the end of 1925, by taking the Dominion census and immigration records and the natural increase shown by the provincial vital statistics.

Apparently at the date mentioned there would be in this Province 25,216 Chinese, 19,455 Japanese and 1,103 Hindus, or a total of 47,774 of Oriental races.

In B.C. members of the Chinese race own 1,203,875 acres, assessed value $412,240 and lease 6,761,407 acres, assessed $567,312.

SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION

According to the report of the director of women's branch department of immigration, the number of immigrants to Canada in the year 1927 from Europe was 143,991. Of these 49,784 arrived from the British Isles and 73,182 from the other countries, most of them from Europe; balance from the United States.

One recommendation was that only selective immigration be encouraged by the authorities at Ottawa.

AT SOLARIUM

At the afternoon session some hooked rag rugs made in the Chinook pattern, especially designed for institutes, were greatly admired.

The delegates and others were entertained at lunch by the Cowichan Women's Institute, and in the afternoon visited the Solarium at Mill Bay, being entertained by Cobble Hill and Shawnigan Lake Institute at tea time at Cobble Hill Hall.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Mrs. Frank Campbell was re-elected president of the Islands board of directors; Mrs. R. E. Nimmo of Saanich, vice-president; Mrs. Williams of Strawberry Vale, secretary; Mrs. Stone of Royal Oak and Mrs. R. Brown of Luxton and Happy Valley, directors, it was announced at the closing session last night.

At the evening meeting an interesting address on Government health insurance was given by Rev. George Pringle of Van Anda, in which he explained steps taken in conjunction with E. S. H. Winn, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, to eliminate the money tests from treatment for bodily ill. Mr. Pringle drew illustrations from his experience as a missionary and padre in the war. He favored expansion of the work of the Compensation Board to take care of health insurance.

It was decided to petition the Legislature, through the institutes, for action to be taken to bring the Province into line with Western European countries in this respect.

BAD WEATHER HALTS FIGHT

Mandell and McLarnin Must Reserve Energies Until To-morrow Night

Promoter Rickard Orders Postponement When Skies Threaten Rain; Weather Man Falls Down on Tex for First Time for an Outdoor Show; Mandell Still Rules Short Favorite by Small Margin; Canadian Harp Is Anxious to Twang Knockout Music on the Champion's Jaw

New York, May 17.—The McLarnin-Mandell fight scheduled for to-night at the Polo Grounds was postponed by Promoter Tex Rickard until to-morrow, because of threatening weather, it was announced at 2 o'clock this afternoon. For the first time in his career Rickard found the weather man against him. The promoter has always been lucky in gambling with the weather for his outdoor shows.

By E. J. NEILL, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, May 17.—"Baby-face" Jimmy McLarnin—the Canadian harp that twanged the cords in Sid Terris's chin just once to become the lightweight sensation of the day—will have his chance to-morrow to strum knockout music on the jaw of Sammy Mandell, champion of the division.

The boys who wager on fistic combat laid odds of 2 to 1 yesterday, however, that the clever champion from Rockford, Ills., would evade the knockout wallop in McLarnin's right hand. They were less confident that a new champion would not be crowned at the end of the fifteen-round skirmish in the Polo Grounds, the first major combat of the season.

Mandell has a bare six-to-five chance as favorite "to cop the buck" if the fight goes the limit.

McLARNIN CLOSE TO WEIGHT

Odds on the slugging Irishman from Vancouver stiffened as Jimmy came into the city from his training camp to weigh in before the boxing commission at 2 p.m. Mandell, a natural lightweight, expected no difficulty with the scales, while McLarnin, who started his career as a flyweight, was close indeed to the class limit of 135 pounds.

The boys who put their cash on Mandell, despite the all-around skill, speed and ring craft of the champion, shuddered a bit at the thought of what happened when that other ring flash, Sid Terris, collided with an eight-inch thrust of Jimmy's right fist several weeks ago.

Although the punch traveled too fast for the eyes of most of the 15,000 gathered in Madison Square Garden, all saw over Terris's twitching form the shadow of a champion—for that night at least.

MANDELL IS A SMART BOY

With the hysteria of that sensational one-round knockout deadened by time, ring critics now believe that Mandell, despite his unwillingness to risk his title more than once in the two years he has held it, is too fast and clever for the challenger.

Mandell, although he has engaged in a title battle only with Phil McGraw since the winning of the lightweight crown from Rocky Kansas, has warded off ring rust with thirty fights in the past two years.

Over 60,000 customers are expected to mob the big National League ball park for the fight. The gate receipts probably will reach $200,000.

New York, May 17.—Sammy Mandell is defying a ring jinx by taking his title into the Polo Grounds in New York to-morrow. Five world champions have lost their crowns in that arena and a sixth, Jack Dempsey, was knocked through the ropes for a count of nine by Luis Firpo before climbing back to knock out the Argentine giant.

New York, May 17.—Sammy Mandell may have something on Jimmy McLarnin, in that he knows that he is the lightweight champion, but it does not show in the physical comparison. Sammy shades the Vancouver boy in height by almost two inches, but concedes three inches in reach. Here is the way they will shape up to-morrow night for their title scrap:

FIELDING IN GREAT SHAPE

Island Champion Ready For Ten-round Bout With Bud Davies

With a light workout to-night closing his training session, Tommy Fielding is in tip-top shape for his ten-round bout Saturday night against Bud Davies of Vancouver. The fight, which is the main event of a card being promoted by Joe Bayley, will be staged at the Tillicum gym.

Tickets went on sale yesterday at The Bull and Two Jacks' Dope, and it appears that a packed house will watch the battlers perform.

Tim Keist and Albie Davies, the two local fighters who have been polishing off Vancouver and other mainland fighters in great style recently, will also take part on the card. Keist has been matched to meet Jackie Knox, while Davies will tackle Jimmy Davies, a brother of Bud. Danny Pastro has also decided to cast in his lot with the pros and will make his first appearance against Jackie Newman, also of Vancouver.

These three Vancouver boys are all top-notchers and the local bruisers will have to be on their toes if they expect to win.

Many Famous Pros Are Counted Out

Leeds, Eng., May 17—Ill-luck pursued the North and South American contingent of golf professionals in The Yorkshire Evening News thousand guineas tournament yesterday. Bill Mehlhorn, Larry Nabholtz and Jose Jurado all failed to qualify for match play. A like fate befell some British stalwarts, including Harry Vardon, Abe Mitchell, Arthur Havers and Alex. Herd.

W. H. Davies of Prenton, headed the qualifying list with an aggregate of 143, followed by J. W. Gaudin, C. A. Whitcomb, Tom Williamson and W. Button, all tied at 144. Archie Compston had 148. Nabholtz scored 152, Mehlhorn 153 and Jurado 155.

The weather was cold and the players wore overcoats as they made and missed their shots.

Mehlhorn took 75 on yesterday's round. Nabholtz finished his second round in 74 and Jurado used 78 strokes.

Denmark eliminated Switzerland 2 to 1.

India defeated Austria 6 to 0 in another first round match.

DEMPSEY DEAF WHEN TALK OF BOUT GOES ON

Cannot Hear Promotors When They Mention $500,000 For His Services

Just in Training to Reduce Waist Line For Appearance on Stage

Los Angeles, May 17.—Jack Dempsey admitted yesterday that he had been undergoing a rather rigorous seige of training, but declared that it is only to put him in shape for his forthcoming stage appearance, and not the start of another campaign to regain the heavyweight boxing title he lost to Gene Tunney.

The one-time heavyweight king said he was working out as a means of reducing his girth before he appears behind the footlights. Dempsey is ten to fifteen pounds heavier than usual about the stomach, and he wants to look like a real fire-eating athlete when he steps upon the stage in September.

HARD OF HEARING

As far as fighting Tunney again is concerned, Dempsey says he's too deaf to hear even a $500,000 offer.

"Why should I fight again?" he asked, then continued: "Money isn't everything, and I have twenty times more than I ever thought I'd be able to retire with. I value my health too much to keep on fighting. I'm in training all right, but it is not for a bout with Tunney. It is for my forthcoming stage appearance."

Between now and the time Dempsey enters the business of acting, he will appear in the ring at the Coliseum here June 16 in a boxing exhibition, a side feature of the Southwestern Olympic Tryouts.

SANDE ACCEPTS MOUNT IN RACE

Will Ride Martie Flynn in Kentucky Derby; Reigh Count Favorite

Louisville, Ky., May 17.—Six derby eligibles contested for the Oakdale purse over a heavy track at Churchill Downs yesterday, but were no match for W. H. Whitehouse's Royal Julian, which won the mile race by a length and a half. The purse was for three-year-olds and up, and the winner's time was 1.39 3-5.

Otto Lehman's Reigh Olga and Blackwood, of the Bloomfield Stable, ran the best race of the derby hopefuls, the former taking place money from the son of Black Tony by a nose. Six lengths back came the well liked Bar None, followed by Irish Pal, with Mop Up and Golden Racket still farther back among the also rans.

Reigh Olga was hard urged down the stretch and finished out a mile and an eighth in 1.54 3-5. Blackwood continued the full derby distance, a mile and a quarter, being clocked in 2.09 3-5.

Strolling Player, Cary T. Grayson's imported derby colt, a recent arrival from the East, worked out a mile and an eighth in 1.56 2-5 in a trial run.

WEATHER STILL BAD

Continued cloudy weather and announcement that Earle Sande would not pilot Martie Flynn in the classic held the attention of derby fans to-day. With the race only two days off, it appeared entirely likely that the fifty-fourth renewal of the derby may be contested over a heavy track.

Even rain, however, probably would not dislodge Mrs. John D. Hartz's Reigh Count from his position of favorite to win the race. B. S. Mitchell, trainer of the Hertz colt, claims the favorite "is even better on a soft track than a hard one."

B. B. Jones's Bobaschela showed a liking for the heavy going by stepping a mile in his morning workout in 1.41 2-5.

New York, May 17.—Mrs. W. Knapp's Under Cover, by Under Fire-Pyrope, won the Garden City claiming stakes which featured the closing day of the Jamaica track yesterday. The four-year-old gelding scored a great victory, beating out E. Arlington's Clearance by a head and covering the mile and one-sixteenth distance in 1.46 1-5, although carrying the top weight of 124 pounds. Scat, another Arlington entry, was third. Paragraph, the favorite, finished a bad fourth. The race was worth $3,275.

Miss Marshall Will Play Mlle. Leblan In Final For British Golf Title

Mrs. Hurd, Last of American Contingent, Defeated by Miss Fowler, of England, Who in Turn Failed Before Miss Marshall in Semi-finals; French Girl Scores Upset by Winning Over Miss Enid Wilson, English Star

Hunstanton, Eng., May 17.—Miss Marshall, of England, and Mlle. Manette Leblan, a French girl, will contest the finals of the women's open golf championship to-morrow.

Miss Judith Fowler, who this morning eliminated the last United States representative, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, was herself defeated in the semi-final by Miss Marshall, one up.

Mlle. Manette Leblan reached the finals by defeating Miss Enid Wilson, English star, one up, in the semi-finals.

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, was eliminated three and two by Miss Fowler.

Miss Fowler won the match on the sixteenth with a birdie two. Mrs. Hurd got a four.

The cards were:

Fowler—Out ..... 455455366—43; In 3545362
Hurd—Out ..... 466355455—43; In 4545464

"Baby Face" Must Wait a Day

Owing to adverse weather in New York Jimmy cannot get his shot at the lightweight championship to-night as he had expected. He must wait until to-morrow night to meet Sammy Mandell, the champion. Whether or not the enforced wait will hurt McLarnin's chances is something the future alone will reveal.

DIAMOND RACE TIGHTENS UP

Sidney Defeat Tillicums 6-4 and Remain in Running For First Half Honors

By defeating the Tillicums 6-4 at the Royal Athletic Park last night, Sidney, last year's champions, remained in the running for the championship of the first half of the Commercial Baseball League.

The Westholmes hold the league lead with three straight victories to their credit. Sidney, in second place, are one game behind, and will battle the leaders on Friday night. Should Sidney win this game they will tie for the leadership of the first half of the league, while if the Westholmes win out the championship of the first half of the league will go to them.

OFF IN FRONT

In last night's game Sidney got away to a one-run lead in the first inning, increasing it to three in the third on a couple of hits and an error.

In the fourth the Tillicums added a little excitement to the game when they drove in four runs to take the lead. With the bases filled and two out Jackie Barr crashed out a timely single to score two, while Lloyd Cann the next hitter, duplicated the trick to send two more men home.

However, the clubmen were unable to stand prosperity, and in their half of the fourth Sidney drove Cann to the showers. The first two men up hit safely and after Steele had scored on Williams's single, Cann was replaced by Pete Campbell.

For the next three innings Steele held the Tillicums in check and they were unable to push a runner across. Sidney scored another run in the seventh to cinch the issue.

Walter Hall Is Surprise Boy In Colwood Match

Walter Hall made the boys sit up and take notice at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday when he won the par competition five up, a remarkable score.

Hall trotted around the eighteen holes in 77. He would have done much better, only he became a little over-anxious at the last two holes, requiring a six on each.

Arthur Coles was second, three down.

"Joe" Lee Presents Fine Cups to Colwood

J. H. "Joe" Lee has donated a beautiful cup for annual competition in the Calcutta foursomes at the Colwood Golf Club. Two miniature cups have also been presented by him to go to the winners.

BOSTON SOX BANG ABOUT OPPOSITION

Former Tail-enders of American League Out After Sixth Straight Win

Athletics and Yankees Making Duel Out of American League Race

With three Cleveland Indian scalps in their locker the Philadelphia Athletes were ready today to continue their mad chase after the flying Yankees in what still may be called the American League race.

Connie Mack is concentrating his efforts upon remaining within striking distance of the Yankees until next Thursday when he hopes to begin tucking a few defeats into the hides of the Manhatten maulers.

The Athletes in the meantime will be stacked up against no more formidable opposition than the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators, who ought to furnish Connie with a chance to bolster his standing. The Yanks, however, will meet the St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox.

BOSTON ARE DANGEROUS

The Red Sox, incidentally, are becoming no mean proposition. They will be out after the sixth straight victory this afternoon as the Detroit Tigers strive to break a losing streak which has endured through six engagements. The Red Sox trimmed the Tigers 5 to 4 in 11 innings yesterday, in one of the only two scheduled games in the American League.

In the other, the Athletics enjoyed a field day against the Indians. Cobb and Hale hit homers for the Athletics after Fonseca had driven out one for the Indians, while Jimmy Fox got two triples and a double. All of this outburst was against Miller, Harper and Brown, enabling the Atheltics to win by 15 to 2. The win gave the Mackmen the odd game in five against the Indians.

CLEVELAND SLIP BACK

The loss of the series, coupled with defeat in the New York skirmish reduced the Indians definitely to third place and rendered precarious their position as contenders.

All was quiet along the National League front. The schedule called for games in Pittsburgh and St. Louis, but rain prevented both contests.

The teams shifted to-day for the start of the getaway series of the first western invasion by the East.

Yesterday's results were:

Senior Golfers to Hold Sixth Tourney In City In August

Judge Lampman, Chairman of Tournament Committee, Announces Championship of Seniors' Northwest Golf Association Will Open at Victoria Golf Club on August 14 and Continue for Four Days; Another Huge Entry List Is Expected

Members of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association can start making plans for their annual championship, as Judge Lampman, chairman of the tournament committee, has announced the date of the tournament. In his announcement to-day the chairman said the championship would be staged at the Victoria Golf Club and would open on August 14 and conclude four days later.

This will be the sixth tournament held by the Seniors, all of which have been on Victoria courses. Twice the Seniors have played at the Colwood Golf Club, and this will make the fourth visit to Oak Bay.

BETTER ACCOMMODATION

Oak Bay will be in a better position to entertain the veterans this year than previously, as the new clubhouse is open. In the past the veterans had to put up with the old "shack" and had few conveniences, but they did have the nineteenth hole in all its grandeur. Most of the veterans had so many happy memories of the old "shack" that they did not worry about the lack of accommodation.

The qualifying round of eighteen holes will be played on Tuesday, August 14, and the sixteen low scores will qualify. The first and second rounds, match play, will be played on Wednesday, and the third round and semi-finals on Thursday. The finals of eighteen holes will be played on Friday morning, leaving the afternoon free for the annual international team match between Canada and the United States.

ENTRY LISTS ALWAYS HEAVY

Capt. J. V. Perks, of Victoria, secretary of the Seniors' Association, anticipates another large entry list this year. No less than 175 seniors started off in the qualifying round last year, which set a record for any kind of a golf championship in the West. The players got away in pairs at 8 o'clock in the morning, and the last ones did not check in with their cards until nearly dusk. If the entry list should go much higher the seniors will be confronted with the necessity of using two courses, a situation which they wish to avoid.

Interest in the association is becoming keener each year, and the waiting list now totals thirty-five. The membership limit of 300 is maintained all through the year. There are three life members, Admiral Wiley and General Richmond P. Davis, of the United States, and Col. Lawson, of Victoria, who is the oldest member of the association, being in his eighty-seventh year.

SEVEN MEMBERS PASS

Seven members of the association died during the year, and others retired on the advice of their doctors. Rather than deprive other golfers of active participation in the association the members, when advised by their medicos that they must give up golf, step down.

Those who passeed away during the past year were E. L. Thompson, Edward Piper and E. C. Schwelin, of Portland; E. A. Strout, of Seattle, who was a member of the board of governors; George Galt, of Winnipeg; Hon. William Sloan, of Nanaimo, and A. S. Beasley, of Victoria.

The seniors greatly enjoy their week in Victoria, and refuse to let the championship be taken to other cities which hold membership in the association. The United States players are solid for Victoria, and it looks as though the championship will be a perpetual thing for the Capital City.

Italians Beat Roumanians In Davis Cup Tilt

Rome, May 17.—The Italian Davis Cup team, conquerors of Australia, gained a commanding lead in the second round contest with Roumania to-day by capturing both of the opening singles matches.

Baron Hubert de Morpurgo, ace of the Italian team, defeated Dr. Puppu, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, while his partner, de Stefani, disposed of Dorner, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

BLISTER BOYS NEARING HOME

Pyle's Hot-footed Troops Reach New York State; Payne Loses a Little

Jamestown, N.Y., May 17.—C. C. Pyle's blistered brigade had to mush down the Liberty Highway toward Bradford, Pa., their seventy-fifth control station, forty-four miles east of here to-day.

Andrew Payne, the Oklahoma farm hand, who has been showing his heels to his rivals with great consistency, led the pack with an elapsed time of 487.23.37 for the 2,950.9 miles of hard road from Los Angeles to Jamestown.

GETS BACK AN HOUR

John Salo, Passaic, N.J., holder of second place in the standing, blazed the trail from Erie, Pa., yesterday, covering the sixty miles in 8 hours 46 minutes and 5 seconds.

The leader was content to lose 1 hour 32 minutes and 52 seconds of his advantage over Salo, finishing in a tie for fourth place for the day. Payne still holds the big advantage of 20 hours 9 minutes and 35 seconds over the New Jersey Finn, whose elapsed time is 507.33.12.

Payne finished in a tie for fourth place with Phillip Granville of Hamilton, Ont., and Louis Perrella of Albany yesterday. Their time was 10.25.57. Granville is third in elapsed time with 521.35.07, and Perrella sixth in 541.56.33.

Umek of Trieste, Italy, finished second in yesterday's lap in 9.36.32. Umek holds fifth place in the standing with the elapsed time of 540.30.28.

Sam Richman of New York took third place in 10.15.04.

Coen Wins Tussle

St. Louis, May 17.—Wilbur F. "Junior" Coen, Kansas City, defeated Wilmer Allison of Fort Worth, Texas, in the first match of the Davis Cup tennis trials here yesterday. The match was decided by 4-6, 7-5, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

Rain delayed completion of the match making it necessary to postpone the contest scheduled between Arnold Jones of Providence, R.I., and John Hennessy of Indianapolis until to-day.

LEADERS TO MEET EAGLES

Eric Whiteside to Hurl For Lodgemen Against Sons of Canada To-night

In their second meeting this season the Sons of Canada and the Eagles, senior amateur ball clubs, will battle to-night at the Royal Athletic Park, commencing at 6.15 o'clock.

At present the Sons are leading the league with two victories out of as many starts.

Eric Whiteside, a new lefthander, is expected to take the mound for the Eagles. He is reported to have lots of stuff and a barrel of speed.

The Sons have not announced their battery for the game, but it is said they have a dark horse to use against the lodgemen.

Three Local Boys Wanted to Fight In Mainland Ring

The services of three of the Victoria boxing club's fighters have been requested for bouts at the newly-formed Pender Street Athletic Club, Vancouver, to be staged on the evening of May 23. The boxers asked for are Jumbo Davies, 105 pounds, Albie Davies, 118 lbs., and Tim Keist, 126 pounds. Terms have been submitted to Jack Cranham, manager of the club, for the services of these boys, and if accepted they will compete. All of the local boxers will work out this evening at the Victoria West gymnasium at 8 o'clock. Fans are invited to attend and witness the boys in action.

"MICKEY" WILL LEAD COLWOOD

J. H. Richardson Elected Captain of Golf Club at Annual Meeting

J. H. "Micky" Richardson was elected captain of the Colwood Golf Club at the annual meeting held last evening. "Mickey," who is extremely popular with the members of the club and has been improving his game a great deal of late, succeeds Dr. Frank Bryant as captain. The Richardson family now directs the playing of the club members as Mrs. "Mickey" is captain of the ladies' section of the club.

J. A. Sayward was re-elected president and treasurer of the club, and the directors will be as follows: A. C. Flumerfelt, Capt. J. W. Troup, J. A. Lindsay, J. L. Mara, B. S. Heisterman, Sir Frank Barnard, J. H. Richardson, T. S. McPherson and Dr. F. M. Bryant.

Splendid reports were read which showed that the club had had a very successful year. The green fees were far in advance of anything the club had known before, which shows how popular the beautiful course is with the tourists.

TILLICUMS AND BAYS WIN FIRST CRICKET GAMES

Wednesday League Gets Underway; Batsmen Not in Right Form Yet

Tillicums, last year champions, started off on the right foot in the opening games of the Wednesday Cricket League yesterday by defeating the Five C's a single run. In the other match the Hudson's Bay, last year's runner-up, were easy winners over the T.V. eleven.

Only one batsman on each side reached double figure in the match between the Tillicums and Five C's. Quainton got more than half the Five C's total with his well-played 29. Booth of the Tillicums reached 16 when he was run out.

GOOD BOWLING

Quainton and Tickle topped the bowling averages, each taking five wickets, the former for twenty runs and the latter for one less.

The Hudson's Bay hit consistently to defeat the T-V's by 130 to 71. Hanson, one of the star batsmen last year, nearly reached the half century, being bowled when his score stood at 46.

Some of the teams were short-handed for their matches.

Fine Cocker Spaniels On Champions Bench

One of the most charming all-round breeds will be present on the champions' bench at the Victoria City Kennel Club show on Friday and Saturday in the presons of two cocker spaniel champions owned by Mrs. Roman of Tacoma.

The cockers, who take their name from the fact that they were chiefly used in woodcock shooting are lovely little dogs, keen and useful in the field, affectionate and quiet in the house, and with their shining black or parti-colored coats are a sight to please the eye of the most exacting.

Of the many famous cockers of early days two were outstanding, Frank, a black-an-tan dog owned by Mr. Burdett, and Venus, a black-and-white bitch owned by Mr. Mousley; and in these two many of the best modern pedigrees have their source. To come nearer the present—in 1880 to be exact—one of the most famous sires was introduced to the public, this was Mr. Farrow's Obo, from whom nearly all the best blacks, and many of the best colored are descended.

The Obo strain went on from strength to strength, and prdouced many champions, winners on both sides of the Atlantic, among them being such celebrated dogs as Mollie Obo, Ted Obo, Tim Obo and Sally Obo. This Obo blood is much prized in the United States.

A very fine blue cocker which was imported to Canada in the early days was Rivington Bluegown, bred by Mr. Phillips. His breeder always maintained that this dog was the finest cocker which he had ever owned, and regretted the sale. However he imported a black dog called Toronto from Canada and this dog did excellent service at the stud, which was some consolation to his owner.

The cockers have always maintained their popularity, and classes for them usually bring out a strong company both for numbers and quality, and there is no doubt many championships await them in the future. It will be interesting for lovers of this breed to see such specimens as the two beautiful parti-colored champions from Mrs. Roman's kennels.

WINS NATIVE SONS' $350 SCHOLARSHIP

CHURCH LEADERS DISCUSS FUNDS

Vancouver, May 17—At the first session of the fourth British Columbia Conference of the United Church in St. Andrew's Church here last night the retiring president Rev. E. D. Braden, minister of Ryerson Church, Kerrisdale, preached the official conference sermon.

Rev. J. J. Ross, D.D., president of the general Ministerial Association, brought the greetings of that body and also of the Baptist convention of British Columbia.

Greetings from the Lord's Day Alliance were brought by Rev. C. H. Heustis, D.D., of Toronto.

FUND PLANS

Allocations were made for the British Columbia apportionment of the maintenance and extension fund for 1929 at a meeting of the presbyteries yesterday afternoon.

The total objective of the fund for 1929 for the Dominion, said Rev. P. T. Pilkey, convener of the fund for British Columbia, would be $3,596,000, and of this sum the British Columbia apportionment would be $160,000, an increase of $10,000 over the figure of last year. By presbyteries the allotment would be: Victoria, $28,000; Vancouver, $85,000; Westminster, $16,000; Prince Rupert, $4,000; Kootenay, $8,000; Okanagan, $17,500; Cariboo, $2,000.

Racing Opens

Calgary, May 17.—The Southern Alberta Turf Association opened its four-day meeting at Cochrane yesterday afternoon with a record attendance. As usual at the Western Mile plant there were a great many upsets, and on the whole the racing was exceptionally good for an opener.

The Brewster Handicap, the chief event of the afternoon, a distance race of one mile, went to Matilda B., a four-year-old mare of the Idaho Stable.

Pneumonia, Bronchitis Second as Death Cause

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Infections of the lungs and of the breathing tract are no new thing to human beings. They were carefully noted by physicians long before the Christian era.

The changes that take place in the lungs in pneumonia were carefully recorded by a Bohemian pathologist named Rokitansky at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Bronchitis, which is limited to the inflammation of the tubes that carry the air into the lung tissues, was differentiated from pneumonia more than a hundred years ago. To-day pneumonia and the inflammations of the breathing tract are the second largest cause of death all over the temperate zone.

CLIMATE COUNTS

Many scientific studies have been made to find out whether or not climatic conditions are responsible for the high incidence of this type of disorder. A well-known British epidemiologist has recently concluded that a drop in the temperature below the normal for the season of the year is likely to be associated with an increased number of deaths from such diseases.

In London studies have been made to find out just how the fogs may be associated with deaths from bronchitis and pneumonia. Leonard Hill, the noted British physiologist, is convinced that smoke and fog interfere with the passage of sunlight and are thus directly associated with increased mortality.

Records kept for hundreds of years of climatic changes and of the incidence of fog have been studied in relation to the number of deaths from respiratory diseases.

There are so many factors involved that it is difficult to draw definite conclusions, but recent studies again seem to show that sudden changes in temperature are more certainly related to bronchitis and pneumonia than the incidence of smoke and fog.

TREATMENT

One of the main features of these diseases is that they are most fatal in old age and in youth. For this reason records of various kinds of treatment must always be studied in relationship to the ages of the persons treated.

Nowadays the most important factor in recovery from pneumonia is skillful nursing. In London during 1920, as recorded by Epidemiologist Hilda Woods, only eighteen per cent of 5,315 deaths from pneumonia occurred in hospital and nursing homes, and twenty-two per cent in poor-law institutions, whereas sixty per cent of the deaths occurred in patients treated without special nursing at home.

Sagging Floors

If your floors have sagged and a crack is seen between the baseboard and floor, take off the beading around the bottom of the baseboard and lower it.

Bobby Jones On Golf

Poor timing often result of failure to move left shoulder from position it occupied at top of swing.

Probably the most important quality of the golf stroke is timing, and certainly it is the hardest to fix and describe. But however difficult to impart the information may be, the player himself has no trouble knowing when his timing is off.

A few days ago, when I had been driving very well, I suddenly became aware that I was not exerting all the power of my stroke upon the ball. Rarely did I meet it at the centre of my driver, and on those occasions when I did so meet it, I could put no punch into the shot. And this though I felt well and as strong as usual. I had the same feeling with my golf clubs that I used to have with a tennis racquet, when in my very poor way, I tried to lob the ball over the head of my opponent who had ventured too near the net. The stroke was the same lazy lifting affair that I had tried to use upon the tennis ball.

As soon as possible after the discovery of the trouble, I repaired to the practice tee with a bag full of balls, my driver, and a pair of willing hands. When I had finished the balls were noticeably older, the driver was probably not so good as before, and the hands were almost ruined, but I had discovered one more silly way in which I could try to hit a golf ball.

NEW FAULTS ALWAYS TURNING UP

Sometimes I wonder if I shall ever progress to the point that I shall develop only familiar faults. If I should do that I should be happy for then I might have a cure for all of them. But this time I found that I was doing something I cannot recall having done before namely, failing to remove my left shoulder from the position which it occupied at the top of the swing.

Of course, the obstruction thus offered by the left side prevented the freedom of movement and the speed of the clubhead which means power. It also induced a lifting stroke which is the typical hooking swing.

As I discovered what I was doing, I thought about a man whose hooking propensities I had tried to overcome a few days previous. I suggested at the time everything I could think of, without apparently putting my finger on the trouble. I think now I have found the cure for him in my own experience.

HITTING STROKE SHOULD BE RELAXED EFFORT

The solution is to turn the left shoulder quickly back from its position at the top of swing. There must be no sway, but simply a quick turn, the left shoulder initiating the movement of the whole body. This may not be literally true, but it is a good point at which to start.

The hitting stroke, in order to have the flexible speed necessary to power and timing, must be a relaxed effort There can be no ease of movement if the right side must first get the left out of the way. Let the left shoulder get itself out of the way so that the whole body may turn easily and effectively into the stroke.

ASK $5,000 FOR REFUGEE HOME

Campaign to Continue Relief in Victoria's School in Greece

Because letters just received from Athens, Greece, urgently ask for continuance of help for the Victoria Working Girl's Home, the diocesan council on Wednesday night voted unanimously to co-operate in securing funds for its continuance this year. The sum of $5,000 is aimed at in the drive.

The home was established last year by means of a gift of $1,000 from members of Anglican churches of Victoria, for some fifty handicapped girls, too old to remain longer in the Near East relief fund save the children's fund orphanages, but girls for whom no permanent homes had been found. Many had some physical defect, due to their sufferings from the Turks during the deportations.

HOME IS REFUGE

"A constant stream of these poor, handicapped girls are passing through this home," writes C. C. Thurber, Anglican lay reader in charge of the home. "They remain with us while they work in the lace and rug factories, or until we can find a permanent home for them. The home is absolutely their only chance, and their gratitude to your good people is simply unbounded." Mr. Thurber has written to Bishop Schofield.

An account has been opened in the office of Fred Landsberg, treasurer of the children's fund, where gifts from Anglican or other sources may be earmarked for the Victoria Girl's Home.

GOAL IS $5,000

"If the grown people of Victoria will bring their gifts to me in the proportion in which children from practically every private school and many Sunday schools are bringing their gifts, we can easily pass the $5,000 goal we hope to reach this year," states Mr. Landsberg.

"It is true that this is the children's fund, but that does not mean it can be built up only by the Golden Rule dimes of the children. We need their help and could not get along without it, but unless friends of children measure their gifts by tens and hundreds of dollars we cannot secure the necessary amount."

Rev. J. J. Handsaker, regional director of the funds, will go to Duncan and Shawnigan Lake to address schools there, and will later return to give addresses at the Emmanuel Baptist Sunday School and congregation, Brentwood College and the Metropolitan Church on Sunday.

MOTOR MEN HERE FORM CREDIT BODY

To eliminate credit losses in the motor sales business, which bear heavily not only on the dealers, but are really borne by the customers who pay their bills, automotive men of Victoria Wednesday night formed a local branch of the Dominion Creditors' Association Limited.

Nugent Spinks will be solicitor and prosecuting attorney for the organization and L. Acton, credit manager for Augus Campbell & Company, was appointed local manager. Directors will be elected at the next meeting, set for June. 5.

H. Edward Bridge, vice-president of the Dominion association, and F. M. O'Connor, field manager, both spoke, dealing with credit conditions and the organization of the association. They both explained that standardization of the credit system was the chief object. They said this had been worked out in other places so that there was ample protection for the dealers in the automotive trade, without working disadvantageously to the public.

OBJECTIONS TO JURY ARE MADE

Benedicts on Jury For Metchosin Flitch of Bacon Ceremony Is Claim

Protests have been lodged by bachelor members of the jury against sitting in judgment with benedicts on the married couples who will present themselves at Luxton Hall next Friday evening to claim the Metchosin flitch of bacon on the grounds that they have lived harmoniously together for a year and a day. The honor of selecting those entitled to the award was supposed to rest with a jury of six bachelors and six maidens, and is announced as follows: The Misses Wilmer Pike, F. Gates, M. Marconini, M. Minns, M. Estlin and N. Larkcom; and R. "Bob" Webb (steward), P. Richards, S. Turner, C. Wilkinson, L. Fox and C. Helgesen. The claims of some of the so-called bachelors regarding their eligibility for jury duty are disputed.

The presentation of the Metchosin Flitch of Bacon, which will take place at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, will be the first time this ceremony has been performed outside of Great Britain. It is being conducted under the auspices of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute.

The following couples will present themselves before the jury for judgment: Mr. and Mrs. F. Frudd of Metchosin, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brown of Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Fullalove of Sayward.

J. Stuart Yates, barrister, is the grand pryor for the ceremony and the other officials are H. A. Beckwith, inquisitor, R. Manzer, pleader, H. G. Pierce, keeper of records and E. P. Ashe, court beadle.

There will be an admission fee for the general public with dancing and refreshments following the ceremony.

Hardwood Dealers In Session Here

Meet in Victoria For First Time; Furniture Trade Expanding

Holding sessions in Victoria for the first time, about twenty-five delegates to the Pacific Coast Hardwood Lumber Dealers' Association conference are meeting here to-day.

Local arrangements for the gathering were made by J. Fyfe Smith of Vancouver. Sessions will be held at the Empress Hotel.

D. J. Cahill of Los Angeles and Jerry Sullivan Jr. of San Diego, who arrived here yesterday, ahead of the main body of delegates, see great development ahead in the furniture trade on the Pacific in both the United States and Canada. It has been rapidly expanding on the Coast, they explained, providing an enlarging field for hardwood men.

Delegates to the conference will break their business sessions this week to hold a golf tournament on a local course.

C.P. Flagship Will Sail For Oriental Ports This Evening

With several tons of seaweed for use in China, the Canadian Pacific Ocean liner Empress of Canada, flagship of the Canadian Pacific fleet on the Pacific and holder of the blue ribbon for speed on that ocean, will sail from Victoria about 7 o'clock this evening for China, Japan and the Philippines. The Canada has only a light list this trip, although her cargo is heavy. Four hundred and twenty-four passengers will be on board when the giant liner pulls out from the Rithet piers this evening for the Orient. Of these, ninety-five will be in the first cabin, fifty-four in the second, twenty-five in the third, and 250 in the steerage. A big consignment of mail will also be taken out on the ship. The Canada is commanded by Capt. Samuel Robinson, R.N.R.

Bound for this port the Empress of Russia, Capt. A. J. Hosken, will leave Yokohama to-morrow afternoon with a good passenger list, a capacity cargo and a big consignment of mail for Canada and the United States. The Russia will arrive at William Head in the early hours of Sunday, May 27, and will dock at the Rithet Consolidated piers about 7 o'clock. The Russia will be the last Canadian Pacific liner from the Orient to dock at this port on Sunday. The schedule has been changed whereby all other Empresses will arrive on Saturday. The first liner on this schedule will be the Empress of Asia, due to arrive on Saturday, June 16.

PRAIRIE FARMS NEED IMMIGRANTS

Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan Will Clear Over Million Acres This Year

Winnipeg, Man., May 17.—The influx of immigrants this season has been well absorbed and in Northern Alberta there is scarcely enough farm help to meet the demand. According to J. S. McGowan, western manager of the Colonization department, and F. J. Freer, superintendent of land settlement, who returned to the city this morning from a visit to Saskatchewan and Alberta in connection with colonization activities of the Canadian National Railways. They estimate that well over 1,000,000 acres of new land will be cleared of bush and brought under the plough this year in Northern Alberta and Northern Saskatchewan.

New immigrants are being used extensively in this work. So far this year the Canadian National colonization department has brought into Western Canada and placed on the land nearly 500 farming families.

The West is very healthy, Mr. McGowan and Mr. Freer said, the effect of recent good crops is particularly apparent in Alberta, where development is proceeding apace. Farm machinery companies report the greatest output of power machinery in years, and at many country points as many as twenty and thirty new tractors have been sold. Wheat seeding should be finished in Alberta and Southern Saskatchewan this week, but Northern Saskatchewan will be a little later, they noted.

Rain would be welcomed in some parts, but on the whole the crop has gone in under good conditions although the lateness of the season has forced many farmers to work two shifts a day.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

PROPHECIES OF BIBLE QUOTED

By Professor Charles T. Everson in Big Tabernacle Lecture

"One of the most wonderful prophecies of the Bible is the one found in Revelations xi and it is a prediction concerning itself," said Professor Charles T. Everson last night at the Big Tabernacle on Pandora Avenue and Vancouver Streets.

"In this prophecy the Bible speaks of itself as the two witnesses or the Old and the New Testament. A witness is one who testifies, and Jesus said the scriptures testified of Himself. So they could certainly be classed as witnesses. The prophecy also calls them the two olive trees and in Zechariah vi 3-6 the olive trees stand for the word of the Lord. They are also called the two candlesticks. A candlestick is to give light and the word of God is a light as stated in Psalms cxix., cv.

"According to the prophecy, the Bible was to be in sackcloth for 1,260 years and it was certainly fulfilled between the years 538 and 1798 A.D. when the Bible was read very little and no one was allowed to have a copy. At the end of that time it was to be slain by the beast of the bottomless pit. A beast in prophecy represents an earthly government, according to Daniel vii 23. This beast was to come out of the chaos of the bottomless pit. In 1798 the outstanding nation that was evolving from chaos was France just after the French revolution. This nation, the prophecy said, would be known as Sodom and Egypt. Sodom stands for immorality and immorality still stands linked up with Paris. Egypt stands for darkness and atheism. At that time France was an atheistic nation. The Bible was to perish at the hand of this nation and France accordingly passed a law that the Bible was a dead book. Voltaire predicted that within 100 years nobody would read it any more. The prophecy said it would lay unburied for three and one-half days or years. And so it was that after three and a half years from the time that law was passed that it was a dead book. Another law was passed counter-acting the first and the Bible was given its rightful place. Furthermore, the prophecy said it would ascend in a cloud of glory. In 1806 the British Bible Society was formed and in 1816 the American Society began and the Bible to-day is printed in 750 languages and there have been issued more than 2,000,000,000 copies. From being a dead book it has ascended in a cloud of glory."

To-night Professor Everson will speak on "How Israel Will Finally Come to Its Own."

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETS AT DUNCAN

King's Daughters' Institution Experiences Busy Month

Duncan, May 17.—The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the King's Daughters Hospital was held on Tuesday. The month of April was fairly busy, according to the lady superintendent's report. There were admitted seventy-six patients and eighty-seven were discharged.

Services rendered were thirty-six medical, fifty-eight surgical, thirteen obstetrical, seven births and two deaths. Operations: Five major and forty minor, four consultations, forty-three X-ray pictures taken and twenty-four out patients treated.

Two sewing bees were held in April, one at Mrs. Mutter's, at which seventy-two articles were made and the other at Mrs. Whittome's, where 183 articles were made.

Miss Ida Calvert, Miss Ida Muriel Lamont and Miss Veda May Lowe graduated on May 12. Miss Calvert has also taken her R.N. exam.

Miss Jackson suggested that members of the executive of public bodies be asked periodically to attend luncheons at the hospital so as to get an insight into the work being done. In this the board concurred and a member of the board will be present at these functions.

Miss Wilson, on behalf of the house committee, congratulated the Misses Calvert, Lamont and Lowe on graduating, and stated that the committee were very gratified at the reception given the graduates by the public. The arrangements were all excellently planned and carried out, the decorations beautiful and the work of those members of the Scattered Circle of Kings Daughters, who provided the supper fully appreciated. The thanks of the board are also due to W. A. Willett for rehearsing with and accompanying the pupils with their songs. Also to the members of the Knights of Pythias for considerably reducing the rent of hall. The addresses were very good and some excellent advice given. It was expected that more people would visit the hospital on National Hospital Day when the hospital was thrown open to the public. This opportunity, given each year, is of considerable benefit in showing the work being done.

The financial report for April shows receipts of $3,854.85 and payments $4,298.13. Accounts passed for payment totalled $3,856.05. The turnover for the month amounted to $3,544 with X-ray $301. Collections are dragging, but the hospital hopes with the settled weather more work will be available, and consequently more money coming in to the exchequer. The city and the hospital have come to an agreement over the exchange of a strip of land on Kings Road with eight feet on Cavell Street, the expenses of this transfer will be borne by the hospital.

The physiotherapy department under Dr. Primrose-Wells is quite busy, and 121 electrical treatments were given last month.

The following donations are acknowledged: Ministering Circle of K. D. Victoria, nightgowns; Victoria Circle, Victoria, table napkins, barracoats and children's nighties; Speedwell Circle of K. D. flannelette tapes, cottons and pins, nightgowns and barracoats; I.O.D.E., Duncan, one pair pillows and flower vase; City of Duncan, hose, pipe and wagon; benedicts' dance, Cowichan Station, $2.94 cash, per Mrs. Wallich.

Those present at the meeting were W. H. Elkington, chairman, T. A. Wood, vice-chairman; Mrs. L. H. Hardie, provincial president of K. D., Victoria; Mesdames J. H. Whittome, F. H. Price, F. G. Christmas, Miss Wilson, Mayor J. Islay Mutter, R. Coates, Miss C. E. Jackson and E. W. Carr-Hilton, secretary-treasurer.

It's Always Cool and Fresh in Our Modern Meat Dept.

While our main refrigerator is of the best system known, the spacious counters are also refrigerated throughout and cased in with plate glass and sliding doors so that no fly and no speck of dirt can enter.
Flies never have any time for such cleanliness, so they pass on.
The air is changed every three minutes by our electric and automatic fans, making the whole of the Lower Main Floor as cool and fresh on a sultry afternoon as at 5 o'clock on a Spring morning.
Under these conditions you may choose your meat three or four days ahead and have it placed back in the refrigerator and delivered almost any time desired.

FIVE WAYS TO COOK LIVER

Larded Liver

This recipe is taken from a Scottish cook-book:

Take a lamb's liver and lard it in rather close rows, covering the whole upper surface. Place it in a deep casserole with chopped onions, carrots, slices of fat bacon, salt, pepper and sweet herbs (sage, etc.). Cover with water or a good soup stock. Cook in a moderate oven for forty or fifty minutes. Turn out on a hot dish. Thicken the liquor slightly with flour and butter, adding a small amount of lemon juice and paprika.

Minced Liver

This, also, is a British recipe.

Boil two pounds of liver till it is firm enough to chop easily; then mince it rather finely with a little bacon. Chop a Spanish onion and fry slowly in butter or bacon fat—just long enough to make it soft; then add the liver, season very slightly with salt and pepper and cook slowly, stirring continually for ten or twelve minutes. Then add a cup of soup stock and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a very little Yorkshire relish (this last item may be omitted). Cover closely and let simmer gently for about an hour. Serve on toast.

Calf's Liver With Herbs

One calf's liver.

One bunch of savory herbs, including parsley.

Two chopped shalots (onions may be used instead, but they should be parboiled before chopping).

One teaspoonful of flour.

One tablespoonful of vinegar.

One tablespoonful of lemon juice.

Quarter pint of water.

Pepper and salt to taste.

Cut the liver into slices, dip in flour, and fry in butter till a light gold color. Take out of pan and keep hot.

Mince the herbs very fine, put in frying pan, add a little more butter, add the remaining ingredients, simmer gently until the herbs are cooked, and then pour over liver.

Calf's Liver Larded and Roasted

Take one calf's liver and lard it. Put it into vinegar with an onion cut in slices, parsley, thyme, bay leaf and a little salt and pepper. Let it remain in this pickle for twenty-four hours, then roast and baste it frequently with the vinegar. Serve it with brown gravy or a sauce made with chopped herbs. The time required for roasting is rather more than an hour.

Mock Duck

This is a Canadian recipe:

Take a fresh calf's liver and stuff with duck dressing (sage and onions, which should be parboiled before being mixed with the other ingredients). Put the stuffed liver in a pan, cover with strips of bacon and bake for two hours, basting frequently with the fat from the bacon strips.

OUT OUR WAY

—By WILLIAMS

"I've had nine children and I'm proud of every one of them. You've had two. If I still like a party now and then, surely no one can begrudge me that. But there is one thing you may not believe—I'm not so crazy about a good time as you think I am. It gets harder each time to get the house and other things ready. But I won't give up. When everybody's here, the people I know and like, I find it is so worthwhile, and it keeps me young. It is middle-aged lassitude I'm fighting. I intend to fight it and to fight old-aged lassitude, too."

There comes a time in everyone's life when the spontaneous desire for social things ceases to be. It is easier to sit in a theatre or a movie and be entertained. Every man and every woman should struggle against this. There is nothing that keeps one so young as social contacts.

It isn't frivolous to give parties at fifty, sixty or seventy. It is the soundest common sense in the world.

Only a Slip 'Twixt Girl and Grippe

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Tuberculosis is increasing among girls," said a doctor at a recent medical convention. "Records show it to be increasing among girls and decreasing among boys."

No one needs to be told the reason for too little clothing and too little food are old stories by this time. Girls themselves are the only ones who deny it. They will learn only by experience, and in this case experience is too dear a teacher.

The remedy lies with parents. It is up to them to save the girls in spite of themselves.

When I see a neat little figure clad in its Spring finery, thinly socked and thinly shod—and know as certainly as though I saw them, the extent of the garments underneath—when I see such a girl waiting on a damp, windy corner for a car, the Spring snow swirling around her thin little legs and narrow shoulders, I can just about guess the conversation that took place before she left home.

"Better put on your heavy coat, Helen. It's cold to-day," says her mother.

"But my new suit's so warm. Really I'd be roasted with anything over it."

"There's no lining and you've nothing underneath."

"Now, Mother, please don't preach. I guess I know when I'm warm enough."

And so it goes. It ends by Helen going out as Helen wishes, and of course Helen does catch cold.

Put a stove out on a cold street and it will take more stoking to boil the potatoes than if the stove were in a room. Every human body is a stove and works on the same principles of combustion. If girls won't stoke up on food, and won't put on enough clothes to retain the heat their bodies throw out, they are putting themselves in a receptive condition and may develop almost anything.

If some of the big leagues would stop talking about birth-control and start a campaign to take care of the children who are here, and to make girls wear healthful clothing and eat proper food, we would not be facing another scourge of tuberculosis, as we are doing now.

Middle-aged Frivolity

She was fifty and she had "raised" nine children, but she still had the keen zest for life of a girl of eighteen.

Her sister walked in one day when she way tying covers on card tables, two in the tiny living-room, one in the dining-room, and one in the hall.

"Looks like your bridge day," said her sister acidly. "When will you ever grow up? Or rather, when will you settle down? With all you've gone through, the struggle you've had and everything, I should think you'd have learned a lesson by this time. But you always were different from the rest of us. All you thought of was parties, and you still do."

Her sister finished tying on the last cover and turned around indignantly. "I'm sorry to be such a disgrace to the family," she said, "but I've never let my good time interfere with my work.

Professor Escapes Chinese Brigands

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, May 17—Professor F. Hauschild, who has escaped over the Chinese border into Burma, has arrived in Rangoon in a penniless condition after an exciting experience in China. As head of the China Survey Expedition, he left Yunnan-fu with five assistants and ten pack animals, under the protection of a military escort. As they were making their way along a lonely mountain path the party were attacked and captured by brigands. After several days on the march they were imprisoned in barbed huts at a mountain village.

TURNING THE TABLES

One night the professor noticed his captors indulging in opium smoking. Taking advantage of their heavy sleep, he escaped from one hut into another, where he seized a revolver. The professor turned the tables by forcing the brigand chief at the revolver point to become his captive, then drove off with him before an alarm could be raised. The brigand chief was eventually hanged.

ELECTION TALK DUBBED GUESSES

Premier MacLean Refers Curious to Opposition Leaders

"My friend Mr. Pooley gives me a hearty laugh every time he makes a new guess as to when the Government will ask the people to endorse its policies," commented Premier MacLean this morning, when his attention was called to a positive statement by Mr. Pooley, at the Cloverdale Conservative Convention last night, that the Provincial elections will surely take place before July 10 next.

"Mr. Pooley apparently knows everything. All I can say is: I know nothing. Ask me in two weeks, in a month or maybe in six months, and I may then have something to say as to the time of our appeal to the voters," said the Premier.

"COUNTRY WITH US"

"One positive statement I will make on behalf of the Government at this time. We are sitting pretty, we know the country is with us, so why should we worry? We do not bother about elections under these circumstances. We leave that for Mr. Pooley and his friends, who apparently have nothing better to talk about."

Freighter Ashore At Port Wilson To Be Lightered

Seattle, May 17.—Arrangements were being made to-day to lighter a part of the cargo of the French freighter Nevada, which grounded early yesterday off Point Wilson, near the entrance to Puget Sound. Reports indicated there was plenty of water forward, only the after part of the ship being stranded. After lightering, efforts are to be made to refloat the ship tomorrow.

VISITOR SAYS ISLAND VAST PLAYGROUND

Capt. J. E. Faire of London Enthusiastic Over Climate and Scenery

"Put Sproat Lake within thirty miles of London and visualize what a magnet it would be."

"I have traveled half over the world, and I have never seen anything to compare with Vancouver Island from a scenic and sportsman's standpoint."

"It is gorgeous."

Capt. J. E. Faire, automobile manufacturer of London and Surrey farmer, at the Empress Hotel to-day recounted his experiences since arriving here some weeks ago to investigate the possibilities of mixed farming on Vancouver Island. He has investigated diversified farming in British Columbia, and is not impressed by it as a paying business venture.

"I have gone into the business thoroughly, and am convinced that diversified farming in this Province is not and could not be made a paying proposition," declared Capt. Faire.

"The rates are too high, school charges are abnormal and the cost of redeeming logged-off land is enormous.

BEST PAYING INDUSTRY

"But scenically you have here the best paying industry in the world. The climate is ideal. To the sportsman this Island is a veritable paradise."

Capt. Faire has just returned to the city from Duncan, Courtenay, Comox, Forbes Landing and Sproat Lake, accompanied by Mrs. Faire.

He expressed the greatest enthusiasm for Sproat Lake, which he believes to be one of the finest of Vancouver Island's many attractions.

"A most beautiful spot abounding with fish," he ejaculated, delightedly reviving impressions of cruises on the lake during his recent travels.

SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

"And as a game country this is unsurpassed anywhere," added Capt. Faire.

He stated that it cost the British landowner £1,000 for every deer shot on his preserves, explaining that this figure included land taxes, maintenance of hunting lodges and entertainment of guests.

"All that the sportsman out here has to do is to pack his rifle and ammunition and haul the carcass out of the woods."

Vancouver Island's excellent highways also appeal to Capt. Faire. "Why I came out here from England under the impression that the country roads would be mere trails," he said, "and I find paved highways that take you from British Columbia to Mexico."

"It is a wonderful country for the motorist," mused the automobile manufacturer.

"I came out to Victoria from London by way of the Panama Canal, but I am going to motor back across the continent."

Capt. and Mrs. Faire's home is "Ardenrun Lodge," Blindley Heath, Surrey. He owns a farm of eighty-six acres at Cowden in the same county.

Engaged in the automobile manufacturing industry for twenty-one years at Croydon he has now retired from industrial activity.

NOT OVERRUN BY UNEMPOYMENT

In speaking of conditions in Great Britain, Capt. Faire states that the country, as popularly supposed, is not overrun by unemployed.

"As a manufacturer," he said, "I would go as far as to say that if you wanted a skilled workman in England to-day you would have to take him from another job."

PROVINCE WILL BE REPRESENTED IN AUSTRALIA

Empire Forestry Conference in September to Be Attended By Member of Government

British Columbia is to be represented by a member of the Government at the Empire Forestry Conference to be held in Australia in September next, for which the Commonwealth Government is making elaborate preparations.

Steamship reservations in July have been made in the name of the Hon. T. D. Pattullo for attendance of a representative of the Government, but it is not yet certain that the Minister of Lands will personally attend.

Hon. Mr. Pattullo this morning explained that this Province is looking to increase its business with Australia, and it is therefore essential that British Columbia be properly represented at the Empire Forestry Conference.

The Minister stated that he did not know whether or not he would be able to attend the conference, but in any event someone would be sent to represent the Government.

Hayward Returns; Saw Opening Of Great City Hall

Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., and Mrs. Hayward were present at the opening of Los Angeles' new $9,000,000 City Hall during their six weeks' holiday in the South from which they have just returned.

"The new building is one of the most wonderful public buildings," Mr. Hayward said. "It covers two city blocks.

"During our whole six weeks' stay we had only one day of rain, and the temperature was very warm.

"I forgot business and politics entirely and just went in for a holiday and rest. I gained at the rate of about one-quarter of a pound a day. We were both suffering from the effects of flu when we went away, but we have returned never feeling better."

Election Before July 10, Pooley Tells Audience

Cloverdale, B.C., May 17—J. W. Berry of Langley, was nominated here last night at a Conservative convention to contest the riding of Delta in the forthcoming provincial election. Three other names were proposed. S. E. Shannon of Cloverdale, Colonel A. W. McLellan of Surrey, Centre, and Captain James McNeil of Hazelmere. Three ballots were taken resulting in the selection of Mr. Berry. One hundred and thirteen delegates attended.

R. H. Pooley, Conservative House leader, in an address, said he was in possession of information to the effect that the general election would be held before July 10. He also said the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, was sailing for Australia, July 23 on a long holiday.

PUBLIC LIFE LIKE BUSINESS

Politics Should Not Be Partisan Affair in B.C., Says Manson

Speaks in Support of Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith at Bamberton

Too much partisanship in public life in British Columbia, was criticized by Attorney-General Manson last night, during the course of an illustrated lecture on British Columbia's resources and potentialities in Bamberton Community Hall, before an audience of 125 men and women.

"Public men seem to allow their enthusiasm and their partisanship to carry them too far. Public life is nothing more nor less than the business of the Province and the principles of government are the same that govern the operations of business. Why, therefore, are we not able to approach our public affairs without getting excited and tearing each other's eyes out? In British Columbia, politics should not be a partisan affair.

Supporting an address by Mrs. Smith, on the lines of her Colwood speech, Mr. Manson said that he had gravely doubted the efficacy of woman suffrage and had disapproved of women entering public life. He was pleased to admit that Mrs. Smith, by her public career, had fully converted him.

MUCH INTEREST IN SHEARING CONTEST

Skill Displayed in Demonstration Held By Metchosin District Farmers

Metchosin, May 17.—The sheep-shearing demonstration held here yesterday afternoon proved a very interesting and attractive event and was attended by a large number of people. The demonstration and contest was arranged by the Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association, of which W. O. Sweatman is president, and Mrs. A. C. McVicker is secretary.

With nearly 250 present at the gathering, which was held through the courtesy of Mrs. O. M. Jones on her farm, intense interest was manifested in the contest. J. B. Edwards, manager of the farm, aided in carrying out the arrangements.

Three prizes were awarded for each class of shearing. In each class there were six contestants entered. The judging was carried out on a scientific basis, with points awarded for time of shearing, conditions of sheep after the shearing, absence from cuts and pack of fleece.

CONTESTS

In the hand shearing contest the entrants were classified as follows under the conditions imposed: 1, C. Harrison, of Metchosin; 2, C. Eccleston, of Beaver Lake, Saanich; 3, J. B. Edwards, of Metchosin; 4, Henry Helgesen, of Metchosin; 5, C. P. Henstock, of Mount Newton; 6, George Kennett, of Duncan.

In the machine shearing the contestants stood as follows: 1, C. Eccleston; 2, C. P. Henstock; 3, J. Rainey; 5, J. B. Edwards; 6, George Ball.

For the children an interesting contest was provided, which consisted in the selection of the breeds to which each of a flock of numbered sheep belonged. A prize was offered by W. L. Whitney-Griffiths. The breeds represented were as follows:

Rambouillet, Southdown, Shropshire, Hampshire, Suffolk, Oxford, Leicester and Lincoln.

Only one of the eight contestants made a correct tabulation of each of the varieties of sheep represented. This was Miss Nora Helgesen. Miss Marie Snider correctly named four of them and Miss Betty Leonhardt three. The other contestants were Nora Bolton, Dorothy Fields, Terry McCreight and Elizabeth Pierce.

The judges in the shearing were Dr. A. Knight, provincial livestock commissioner, and Arthur Morton, of the Dominion livestock branch, representing sheep and swine.

In addition to the shearing contests there were other specially attractive features. W. Shields, of Sooke, gave a practical demonstration of killing and dressing sheep, while J. H. Mutton, of P. Burns & Company, gave a practical exhibition of the cutting up of a carcass.

During the afternoon, tea and cake were served by a committee of ladies convened as follows: Mesdames W. O. Sweatman, W. Witty, R. D. Young, F. Reid, M. E. McVicker and H. Helgesen.

Chamber Officials Arrange For Visit Here of Credit Men

P. B. Fowler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, C. P. Hill, chairman of the tourist trade group of the Chamber and George I. Warren, secretary, left this afternoon for Seattle where they will confer with the Sound City executive regarding the visit of the Nation Association of credit men to this city in June.

An excursion by the steamer Princess Kathleen for a party of 1,200 delegates to the convention of this association in Seattle has been arranged for June 13. The Victoria officials will complete details of transportation for this party while in the Sound City.

"MISS VICTORIA" TO ADVERTISE CITY ON PRAIRIES

Beauty Queen Is Started on Career With Official Presentations at Theatre

Tears of joy and pride in the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Pilkington as they sat in a box of honor at the Dominion Theatre last night and heard the crowded house applause the beautiful girl under the spotlight on the stage, who was their daughter.

Outside the theatre, the waiting crowds were lined up nearly a third of a block. Inside, George I. Warren, secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was making his speech, officially announcing Mr. and Mrs. Pilkington's daughter, Irene, as "Miss Victoria, 1928," and presenting the prizes to her and the other contestants in the beauty competition.

A few days ago, the father and mother, who sat in the box, thought they had only an ordinary good-looking and very modest sixteen-year-old daughter, with a fascinating smile and a winning personality. Last night they saw her spotlighted to fame as the officially recognized most beautiful girl in Victoria and the beauty representative of this city to tour the prairie cities and compete for the title of "Miss Canada."

There were cries of "Ah," from all parts of the theatre as Mr. Warren presented "Miss Victoria" with the French gown and hat to match, the first prize gift of Harry Malakoff, and the finest gown in the whole imported stock of the South African Plume Shop. There were also exclamations when the dainty little silver slippers, the prize gift from William Maynard, were brought out of their box. The Gresham Hosiery Company presented her with a box of hosiery. She appeared on the stage first in the new white silk bathing suit imported for her by J. M. Robertson, manager of the Dominion Theatre.

Mr. Warren in his speech complimented the enterprise of the Dominion Theatre and of its manager, J. M. Robertson, in promoting the competition for the election of a "Miss Victoria."

"I also want to compliment them and the people of Victoria in the choice they have made in the selection of this young lady as the beauty representative of this city," Mr. Warren said. "She is now going on tour through the prairie cities, starting at Edmonton next Monday and her appearances in the wonderful costumes which have been presented to her by the Victoria merchants will be one of the greatest advertising feats which this city has accomplished in some time in the Northwest field in which advertising is so important to us."

"MISS NANAIMO" HERE

"Miss Nanaimo" was here last night to attend the presentations on the stage of the Dominion Theatre. She was introduced to the Victoria audiences by Mr. Warren and presented with bouquets. She will leave here Saturday afternoon with "Miss Victoria" on the start of their tour of the prairies, to compete for the title of "Miss Canada," who will represent this country at the international beauty finals at Galveston. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson will escort the two girls to Vancouver, and there they will be taken in charge of by an official Famous Players chaperone, who will accompany them on the Canadian National train out of Vancouver Saturday night.

OTHER PRIZES AND FLOWERS

Miss Madge McCowan, who won second beauty prize, was presented with a solid gold wrist watch from W. H. Wilkerson, a pair of smart shoes from William Maynard.

Miss Marjorie Moody as third, received a genuine ladies' handbag from the Leather Shop, and also a special gift in an unopened box from a special admirer.

Miss Emily Burke as fourth, received a ladies' beauty set from Merryfield & Dack.

Miss Florence Moody as fifth, received a box of silk hosiery from the Gresham Hosiery Shop. An admirer in the audience presented her with a special gift, which was not opened on the stage.

Baskets and armsful of flowers were presented to the girls over the footlights from other admirers.

ESQUIMALT MAY HAVE STEEL PLANT

The company is an influential one, the name of which cannot be divulged until all the details towards the success of the plan have been arranged. The land west of the drydock, which consists of about twenty acres of land, is said to be ideal for the project.

The property is next to the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway tracks and would be ideal for the handling of freight cars direct from the plant. Power lines also pass in close proximity to the site. Deep water frontage for the shipment of cargoes by water is also available.

PASTOR LOSES RANK OF BISHOP

Kansas City, Mo., May 17.—Bishop Anton Bast of Copenhagen was found guilty on two charges of imprudent and unministerial conduct by an ecclesiastical court of the Methodist Episcopal Church which reported its findings to the conference of the church here to-day.

The court, composed of seventeen ministers, sustained the suspension of the bishop following his conviction in Denmark in 1925 on charges involving the alleged misuse of charity funds.

While suspending him permanently from exercising the functions of bishop, the ecclesiastical court continued him in the membership and ministry and recommended provision for his support until the next meeting of the conference, which will be held next Spring.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, May 17.—The wheat market was extremely weak during the first part of to-day's session, when May and July futures broke about 3¼ and the October 2¼ cents, the market being under pressure of further liquidation and buying power quite thin. However, on the break, shippers were buying the July, while holders of daily bids were buying against them, and shorts were covering and taking profits. This caused a reaction of about ½ way from the early break, but there seemed to be plenty of wheat for sale on the upturns and the bulges were difficult to hold. The overnight export sales were very moderate and disappointing considering the decline of yesterday, and did not amount to more than a few odd loads. Seaboard estimated sales in all positions from 400,000 to 500,000 bushels.

Chicago, May 17.—Wheat: With trade mostly local the bearish sentiment predominated, had full opportunity for expression. The fact that Canadian wheat was being pressed for sale was given as the reason for lower markets abroad, to which our market gave full response. Terminal supplies are being reduced, but substantial visible stocks still remaining are a somewhat depressing influence.

New crop is thought to be making fair progress under conditions prevailing which appears to the local trade as sufficient reason to expect lower levels. No matter how badly foreign countries may need wheat we cannot expect them to pay up for it when by our domestic attitude towards the market we indicate that we think our goods are not worth much.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, May 17 (By Branson, Brown and Co. Limited)—Whitney of the Wall Street financial bureau says to-day:

"This is not the time to sell stocks, since from a technical standpoint it is indicated that the industrial averages at the worst will not be more than a point and a half to two points below last night's close, and that the rails will make their bottom within even a smaller range than that. Not only should holdings be retained, but in so far as the issues which have been recommended here are concerned, they can and should be bought on early weakness to-day.

"The failure of the more seasoned issues to follow the wild gyrations, in the past three or four market sessions, displayed by the more unseasoned stocks was a plain indication that a period of correction was to be encountered, but we see no reason for selling the sounder issues, since it will be these and not the recent special feature performers which will come forward from out this reaction.

"As Col. Ayers aptly expressed it, a market such as this one can not be killed, it has to commit suicide. The present correction which has been administered does not alter that thought, but at least it postpones the time when the market will end, as all others have ended. As for the New York rediscount rate do not believe that it will be altered to-day."

TORONTO MINES

Toronto, May 17.—Prices were irregular on the Standard Mining Exchange to-day with the fluctuations confined to a narrow range. Noranda in heavy trading climbed 120 to 24.25, while Abana scored a gain of 15 to 315. Tough Oakes was active, but lost 2 to 27½. Hollinger with a small sale slumped 30 points to close at 15.70.

Unlisted issues were weak. Pend Oreille continued to decline, selling off 91 cents to 16.20, while Hudson Bay was 35 cents off at 18.40. Sherritt-Gordon was 5c higher.

Wall Street To-day

(By B.C. Bond Corporation's Leased Wire)

New York, May 17.—The evening editions of The Wall Street Journal says: The market rallied vigorously in the last hour, led by the motors which have been prominent recently with the oils and coppers also showing strength. American Fone was the outstanding feature of the investment issues. The stock climbed rapidly in the worming when the rest of the active stocks were irregular.

It had been though that the ratio of subscription in new stock would be ten for one, and the one for six ratio came as a more or less of a surprise. Money was firm, banks calling large loans around midday, and the call rate went to six per cent.

The advance in money caused renewed selling, but liquidation did not increase as the list became irregular, and as a matter of record the recovery in the market came after money had gone to the higher level.

It was apparent that the professional trading elements was outspokenly bearish, but their efforts to press prices did not apparently inspire any volume of outside liquidation, and this fact, coupled with the apparent calmness of the list after yesterday's storm undoubtedly had an influence in forcing covering in the last hour. Call money renewed at 5½ and closed at 6 per cent.

New York Federal Reserve Bank increase rediscount rate four to four and one half per cent.

Brokers' loans increase $140,936,000.

Montreal Stocks

By B.C. Bond Corporation Direct Wire

Montreal, May 17.—The absence from the street of a number of traders, this being a religious holiday, accounted for some issues opening up slow. Yesterday's reactions both in New York and Montreal markets, was noticeable today, and nearly all local leaders at the noon close showed substantial recoveries. There appeared to be excellent buying at the lower prices, and the bullish element was in full control of the situation. Dominion Bridge figured among the features. It opened at a low of 90, rallied to 93½ and closed at 93¼ for a net advance of 2. Nickel was another bright spot, recovering to 91½ from a low of 89½. Breweries jumped 2¼ to 137¼ from its opening of 135; Steamships 2 to 43. The following specialties recorded declines: Lyall 1½ at 62; Smelters 3¼ at 272; Canadian Brewing 34 at 38, and Guards 1 at 92. A five-point advance in Montreal Tramways and a movement of the same proportion in the opposite direction by Laurentide Power to 265 were the most important changes in the Utilities department. Brazilian eased off to 61½, rallied to 63 and closed unchanged at 62½. Shawinigan from a low of 104 held up and closed at 105½. Quebec Power rallied from 109¾ to 111 and Power Corporation showed a fractional gain at 94. Montreal Power dropped 2 points to 110 and later firmed up to 111½. Canada Power and Paper featured the paper group with a two-point recovery to 51. Other issues in that group displayed heaviness.

Detroit, May 17.—The Ford Motor Company this week has added 2,002 men to its payroll, bringing the total up to 110,823, a new record high, against the previous record high of 110,000 in 1926, and the low point of 52,000 last Summer.

Export Demand Sends Copper Price Higher

New York, May 17.—With the world buying more copper this year than at any time since the war and with production somewhat behind demand, the advance in the price of domestic copper on Monday was followed late yesterday by an increase of ⅛ cent to 14⅝ cents a pound in the price of export copper.

Although the world's supply of spot copper has been steadily decreasing, production has not been geared up to meet the growing demand, with the result that copper fabricators are said to be alarmed over the seriousness of the situation.

The Journal of Commerce this morning says that the demand for copper is increasing, especially for European account and the world's requirements are growing larger every day. According to leading authorities, hydro-electric requirements promise to call for large amounts of copper.

Big Tobacco Companies Battle In Cigarette Price-cutting War

New York, May 17—The price war in the cigarette world, precipitated by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, manufacturers of "Camels," is taken here as indicating that the whole cigarette industry has been revolutionized, both in the retail field and wholesale manufacturing outlets.

The Atlantic & Pacific chain and cut-rate stores have played havoc with sales by the older United and Schulte retail outlets. Competitive alignment of the manufacturers has been upset by entry of Lorillard's new brand, the "Old Gold," and therta of British companies, who are moving over and establishing their plants in United States now, and the fact appears to be that the "Camel" was among the hardest hit. The price cut here was forced, to reattain and maintain sales outlets. The price cuts by the others were forced to meet this competition. The price cut amounts to 35c a thousand, from $2.64 down to $2.29 net to the manufacturer, a little more for American Tobacco, a little less for Lorillard. This cut means a terrific wallop against the margin of net profit, and it is a real war.

The strongest evidence of the real weakness of the tobacco shares in this market is their inability to come back. Short covering may hold them a while, but they look to work lower. They should be good pickups next year, after the smoke of the battle has cleared more, and given a better insight into the future alignment than is now possible. This is the best time to switch out of these and related tobacco stocks.

Good buys are Kennecott Copper, Anaconda on the dips, Victor Talking Machine, Gulf Oil, American Smelting, and Union Pacific. For E. H. of Cincinnati, who for some reason does not want Victor, Anaconda or Kennecott, but a good medium-priced stock, Nevada Consolidated Copper, or Howe Sound Company, combine good dividend yield with good market possibilities.

NORANDA JUMPS TO 24.25; PEND SLUMPS BADLY

Toronto, May 17—After gaining eighty points yesterday, Noranda opened up another fifty points at 23.00 this morning and immediately started on a stiff climb, which carried it to 24.25, representing a gain of 2.00 in the last couple of days.

Only a few weeks ago the stock was down around 17.00.

As in the earlier sessions of the week, the big buying in Noranda continues to emanate largely from New York.

Teck Hughes was strong again to-day hitting 10.25, and Sudbury Basin was up to 9.95.

Pend Oreille was the only weak feature of the mining market. This stock after closing weak at 17.15 yesterday, opened off at 16.50 this morning and dropped to 16.20. There is a big long interest in the stock and this long interest is known to be vulnerable. After the bad jolt last week, efforts were made to hold the stock up, but apparently the load on the market is too heavy. A bad break in the stock, which is now feared, would cause severe losses to holders of big blocks of the stock in Vancouver as well as here.

German Bond Issue Coming to New York

New York, May 17.—The bond market was quiet again to-day under the influence of slightly firmer time money rates. Trading continued selective and prices change were limited.

Liquid Carbonic 6s again were outstanding in the industrial group, advancing more than a point. Profit-taking caused some heaviness among the coppers, Anaconda and Andes Copper 7s, easing off. Chile Copper 5s, however, made a small gain.

Rails continued irregular, with most of the demand for Katy first 4s, and Canadian National Railways 4½s. St. Paul 5s of 1975 sagged. Some New York traction issues were stronger.

The foreign group was steady with Greek Government 6s leading the way on buying, evidently inspired by measures looking to stabilization of the drachma. Kingdom of Belgium 7s were under pressure in early trading.

Reports were received to-day that negotiations have been completed for a $10,000,000 loan to the Atiengellschaft Fuer Koehlerwortung, a company organized by the Ruhr mines of Germany to recover waste gases from coke ovens for commercial use. A banking group headed by Dillon and Read, Halsey Stewart Company, will make public offerings of 25-year 6 per cent bonds in this country.

EXPORT FRUIT TO BE MARKED

Ottawa, May 17.—The fruit branch of the Department of Agriculture announces receipt of a cable to the effect that the marking on all exports of Canadian apples during the coming season must bear one of the three words, "Empire," "Canada" or "Canadian," in letters not less than half an inch in height, either stencilled or printed. The Empire Marketing Board advocates the use of the words, "Empire-Canada" in order to conform to the policy it has adopted in advertising Empire products.

The application of the Merchandise Act, 1926, to apples comes as a result of representations made by Fruit Trade Commissioner J. F. Smith at the instance of the Canadian Horticultural Council.

The Merchandise Act also provides that a label or show card must be used in retail stores, indicating to intending purchasers the origin of the apples.

Distilleries Paying Up All Sales Tax Arrears

Toronto, May 17. — It was learned here that Gooderhame and Worts distillery, who in a recent court action were ordered to pay the Government about $425,000 for gallonage and sales tax arrears, are going to pay up to the end of March, 1928, instead of March, 1927, according to The Toronto Star to-day. This will bring the company's payment to $675,000.

Similarly the British-American Brewery of Windsor has also agreed to pay more than $200,000 as arrears up to the end of May, 1927, and will also pay the taxes which have accumulated since that date.

The taxes in question are on sales which the Government contends were not export sales—which are exempt from taxes—but were domestic transactions.

SIR CHARLES GORDON NOW TEXTILE CHAIRMAN

Montreal, May 17—F. G. Daniels, managing director, was elected president of the Dominion Textile Company Limited and Sir Charles Gordon, the retiring president, became chairman of the board at the meeting of the board of directors of the company to-day, following the annual meeting of the shareholders.

At the shareholders' meeting Sir Vincent Meredith was elected a director to fill the vacancy created by the death of C. R. Hosmer.

Commerce In the World Market

WHEN the Golden Lilies of France waved over the battlements of Old Quebec rich cargoes of furs moved down the St. Lawrence and out across the Atlantic. From this beginning Canada's foreign trade has so expanded that to-day Canadian products, valued annually at over $1,250,000,000, are sold in 120 countries.

As in the days of New France, international commerce is a vital factor in commercial life. Exports assist us to develop our great natural resources. They provide stability to all business, and employment for even the humblest worker. They enable us to purchase raw materials that we cannot produce ourselves, but which are necessary for our well-being. They attract capital for further commercial expansion.

For many years Canadian business men, bankers and government agents pioneered in the interests of Canada's foreign trade. As a result, Canada has achieved an enviable place in the world's economic structure, ranking sixth among the great trading nations. The growth in recent years of Canadian commerce abroad is without parallel elsewhere.

Sailing ships still carried overseas a large part of our exportable products, and there were few Canadian exporters, when The Canadian Bank of Commerce first opened branches and established connections at strategic centres in foreign countries. Today this Bank has an organization now regarded as one of the most important factors in the country's foreign trade, affording facilities for the sale and shipment of Canadian products to any part of the world.

Toronto, May 17.—A general upward trend was shown on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning. Noranad at 22.60, continued its climb with a gain of 35 points. This is up 100 points from yesterday. Dome Mines after opening at 935 sold up to 950, while Sudbury Basin at 10.15 gained 23 and Treadwell gained 25.

Pend Oreille lost 30 to 17.10. McIntyre suffered the heaviest loss at 26.50, down 45.

Castle Trethewey, Malartic, Sudbury Contact and Sheritt-Gordon lost from one to five points.

NEW INSURANCE COMPANY FORMED

Ottawa, May 17.—Second reading was given in the Commons last night to a bill incorporating the Canadian Commerce Insurance Company. The measure was then refefred to the private bills committee for further consideration.

The Penny Princess

By ANNE AUSTIN Copyright 1928

She had never had a real sweetheart. Calvin Trumble, who had wanted a "helpmeet" who could earn more than her half of the expenses, didn't count; neither did Aunt Flora's discarded suitor, the middle-aged Mr. Perdue, who had talked pathetically of his broken heart and his motherless little children. How did Aunt Flora do it? She had had four husbands, could marry again to-morrow if she wanted to. And Aunt Flora was useless, a spendthrift, a pleasure-mad, vain woman.

She—Vera Victoria Cameron—was certainly an old-fashioned girl, if it was old-fashioned not to expose the knees and bob the hair and paint like a chorus girl and pet like a demi-mondaine. And yet—men did not "prefer" her, and she was lonely, for all her success, and tears were slipping uncontrollably down her cheeks. If only Aunt Flora would let her alone—stop "kidding" her, let her be herself in peace—

When she entered the foyer of the twenty-two story office building where the Peach Bloom Cosmetics Company occupied an entire floor—the factory was in Jersey—she was again the brisk, business-like young private secretary. A pleasant excitement routed her depression. She was glad her new, smartly tailored black cloth suit had arrived in time for this auspicious day. A glance in the mirror in the elevator told her that the white silk blouse, with its pleated ecru and its high collar and frilled cuffs, was exactly the right thing for the suit. It made her look well-dressed, efficient but not masculine. And the hand-sewn black felt hat looked the eighteen-fifty she had reluctantly paid for it. Mr. Canfield would recognize her eminent fitness for the dignified position of secretary to the president. Gladys Holmes had, that last week, worn powder blue silk crepe, with long, tasseled sleeves that must have annoyed Mr. Canfield with their fluttering. And Gladys had clicked about the offices on absurd, three-inch French heels. The dimples in her shamelessly exposed knees must have been disgusting to a business man like Mr. Canfield.

She went briskly to her office, a little cubicle outside the private office of the sales manager, opened her desk, arranged notebook and pencils ready for a call from her boss whenever he happened to stroll in—late as usual on Mondays, filed a basket of correspondence which she had answered on Saturday, and was, at ten o'clock, making a careful graphic representation of a sales report on business for the month of March when an office boy skidded into the room.

"The old man wants to see you, Miss Cameron," he grinned at her. He was probably the only human being connected with the entire office force that did not feel any awe at all of Miss V. V. Cameron.

Any other girl in the world would have snatched up a vanity case and powdered her nose before obeying that summons. Vera rose instantly, did not even pat the smooth, flat braids of her brown hair, for she knew that they lay in immaculate order against her brow and over her small ears. She was guilty of one evidence of vanity, however. She took from its hanger the severe little jacket to her new suit, buttoned it snugly over the white silk blouse, arranged collar and cuffs with quick, deft fingers and then walked briskly but unhurriedly down the long corridor to a door marked "Mr. Canfield." As she entered the secretary's office, she cast an appraising and possessive glance at the big mahogany desk which would now be hers. A thick Oriental rug lay suavely on the floor. Oh, it would be nice to be mistress of this pleasant place, nice to have the other girls envious, respectful!—

She tapped, with fingers slightly cold with nervousness, upon the door labeled "Private." As she opened the door to Mr. Canfield's loud bellow of invitation, a girl almost collided with her, a girl leaving Mr. Canfield's private office with an open notebook in her hand.

"Mr. Canfield will see you now, Miss Cameron," the girl spoke in a lilting, sweet voice, a voice that fairly rippled with triumph.

"Thank you, Miss Fitch," Vera answered, her voice cold and even.

Rosemary Fitch! Rosemary! Aunt Flora's mocking, fond warning—"I'm afraid you may find out!"—came to Vivian's ears, in which the blood pounded sickeningly, as cleverly as if her aunt were there, noting her defeat, her incredible defeat.

Rosemary Fitch flashed a smile at her out of wide, china-blue eyes, and rustled to the swivel chair before the mahogany desk which Vivian had just appraised as her own.

"Come in, Miss Cameron. How are you to-day? Fine, I hope," Mr. Canfield boomed cordially. "You see we're making some changes around here—"

Vera closed the door with an ice-cold trembling hand and walked jerkily to the seat beside the president's desk.

"Mr. Canfield," she began tremulously, but courageously, for anger, made her brave, "Is Miss Fitch going to take Miss Holmes's place as your secretary?"

"Well, yes," the big, broad old man nodded, his keen, slate-gray eyes narrowing as he regarded her quizzically. "Have you any objections, Miss Cameron?"

"I—I had hoped to be promoted to the position myself," Vera told him, her mouth, her adorable, kissable mouth held firmly to keep it from trembling. "I have been with the firm longer than any of the other girls, now that Miss Holmes is gone, and I—I know I'm a better secretary than—than—Miss Fitch."

"You mean that you can take dictation faster, turn out more letters, make better graphic representations than Miss Fitch, don't you?" Mr. Canfield asked gently; almost pityingly.

"I certainly do," Vera retorted, tears welling up in her eyes, to her intense disgust.

"I agree with you, as to those qualifications, Miss Cameron. You are probably the most efficient secretary this organization has ever had—"

"Then why—?" Vera interrupted him indignantly.

"Miss Cameron, 'Im an old man and I don't want to work as hard as you would make me work," the president of the Peach Bloom Cosmetics Company leaned back in his chair, which creaked under his weight, and regarded her humorously. "Benham warned me about you, said you were a regular slave-driver of a private secretary. No, listen to me, young lady. You've made a kick, a perfectly legitimate kick, so far as you are concerned, and you have a right to know my reasons for giving the best job from the standpoint of money and dignity, that the concern has to give to a stenographer, to a girl that you no doubt consider incompetent and ridiculously unsuitable."

"I'm president of the company, as you know, Miss Cameron, but I don't do a whale of a lot of work. Got plenty of high-powered executives to do the drudgery for me. Sometimes I don't dictate a dozen letters a day. Most of my appointments are with the big buyers, for social purposes only. I leave the business interviews with Benham and his boys. Why, girl, I couldn't possibly keep a human dynamo like you busy and contented. You'd be shaming me into doing a lot of meddling with the department heads, just to keep me busy, so I could keep you busy. As I said, I'm getting to be an old man—and by the way, you didn't contradict me, as little Rosemary Fitch would have done—" he grinned at her.

She gasped, started to speak, but Canfield waved a broad, fat hand at her.

"Just one of the duties of my private secretary,' he chuckled. "You can see that you wouldn't suit at all. I play golf a lot, and I like to have an adoring young audience sit in that chair and ooh and ah when I tell how I went around the course in par. Now I wouldn't dare take up your time telling you how I made the beastly hole in two, or about the party I'd been on the night before with a buyer or how extravagant my daughters are, or lay a bet with you on how a detective story serial was coming out. Don't misunderstand me.

"Of course, I want a secretary who can write an intelligible letter and who won't ball up my appointments for me and one who can make hotel and Pullman reservations without being told. But Miss Fitch has brains enough to do all those things and yet she's human enough to humor an old man and make him feel like a great big conquering hero every minute he's fiddling around on the job. Do you get my point?"

"Why did you send for me, Mr. Canfield? To—to humiliate me?" Vera rose, trembling so that she could hardly stand.

"Whoa there, child! Don't fly off the handle! But damned if it doesn't make you attractive, to get all flushed up like that. I sent for you because I have a new job for you, one that you'll simply eat up. You're going to be much happier with Jerry Macklyn than you could possibly have been with me—"

"Jerry Macklyn?" Vera was guilty of interrupting her employer again.

"The new advertising manager. Starts to work this morning. He's another demon for work, and the biggest advertising genius in New York. Peach Bloom is simply rotten with luck to get him. You're to be his assistant, or rather, one of his assistants, in addition to being his secretary. Don't think I haven't appreciated you, Miss Cameron. So does Benham. He's done more work with you to nag him than he ever turned out before in his life. I'm afraid sales are going to fall off when you take yourself out of his office. But Benham says he'll give you to Jerry for the good of the firm. You'll like Macklyn. In fact, he asked for you—"

"Asked for me?" Vera repeated.

"Not by name," Canfield disappointed her by saying, "but he asked for the smartest girl in the organization, the girl who knew the most about Peach Bloom Cosmetics and the business in general. Benham and I both agreed that he meant you and no one else."

"Thank you, Mr. Canfield," Vera stammered. "Do I report to him this morning?" Her voice was eager, girlish, her adorable mouth flashed a wide smile at the shrewdly observing old man opposite her.

"Sure you do. He's waiting for you. He has Stafford's office, of course. And by the way, the job carries fifty a week, the same as Miss Fitch will get. Feeling better?" he added in a kindly voice, unlike his usually hearty boom.

"Shall I—shall I be allowed to write advertising copy too?" Vera quavered happily. "I've been takin an advertising course at Columbia two evenings a week, as well as an extension course in chemistry—"

Canfield's laugh boomed out. "I'd have bet that you had," he assured her, but his eyes were very kind. "Sure you'll be allowed to try your hand at copy-writing—booklets, things of that sort. Now, run along and don't think too harshly of the old man."

Vera could have kissed him—but she merely thrust out a cold, timid hand. She almost ran from the office, did not cast a single envious glance at Rosemary Fitch, who was applying lipstick.

Jerry Macklyn! Jerry Macklyn! Jerry! He had asked for her. What if he didn't know her personally? He knew the kind of person she was, had wanted her above all others. Oh, it did pay to study and work hard—What a nice name he had! Jerry Macklyn! Would he be a Jerry sort of person, as Aunt Flora would say? Maybe—She paused outside the door which was still labeled "Mr. Stafford," in honor of Jerry Macklyn's predecessor, and for a moment she thought wildly of rushing back down the corridor to Rosemary Fitch's office, to ask her for a loan of her powder compact and her lipstick. But she knew that she couldn't do that—lay herself open to ridicule, have Rosemary Fitch giggling about her in the rest room—

With head high and a strange new hope in her heart, she lifted her hand to knock on the inner door beyond which Jerry Macklyn was no doubt awaiting her impatiently.

"What are you laughing at?" crowed Charlie Chick, the rooster boy as he saw Lulu, Alice and Jimmie Wibble-wobble, the ducks, on their way to school one morning.

"Oh, something funny just happened!" quacked Jimmie.

"Only I didn't feel much like laughing a little while ago," said Lulu, picking up a stone in her webbed foot and throwing it almost as far as Charlie or Jimmie could have done.

"What was the matter?" crowed the rooster boy.

"I lost my lollypop," quacked Lulu.

"But Uncle Wiggily helped her find it," said Jimmie. "And to make us laugh he drew a cut out puzzle in the sand. Whose picture was it, can you guess?" asked Jimmie of Charlie.

"It was yours!" crowed the rooster boy.

"How'd you guess?" asked Alice.

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled Charlie. "I happened to walk past your pond, after

The note was dropped on the path.

Uncle Wiggily drew the puzzle picture and I saw it would make you when it was put together, Jimmie. Didn't it?"

"It sure did!" answered the boy duck. I was the cut out puzzle."

Then they all ran to the Hollow Stump School, for the Lady Mouse Teacher didn't like her pupils to come late. As for Uncle Wiggily, after finding Lulu's lollypop, he hopped along over the fields and through the woods, looking for an adventure.

From a far off hill the Fuzzy Fox and the Woozie Wolf saw the rabbit gentleman hopping happily along, and the Fox barked:

"I think I know a way we can catch Mr. Longears."

"How?" snarled the Wolf, for he was very hungry.

"Listen to me!" whispered the Fox. "You know you have just had the door to your den newly painted, haven't you?"

"Yes," said the Wolf, "but what of it. The paint is dry now, and, even if it were not, it wouldn't be sticky enough to catch a rabbit."

"Nonsense! As if I didn't know that!" chuckled the Fox. "But with the new paint on the door of your den it doesn't look like the place where you live. If we can only fool Uncle Wiggily so he'll open the painted door and go in, he'll be in your den and we'll have him!"

"Yes," admitted the Wolf, "but how are we going to get him to open my newly painted door?"

"I'll write a note and drop it on the woodland path along which Uncle Wiggily will soon be hopping," whispered the Fox. "After I leave the note we'll run and hide in your den. Soon Uncle Wiggily will come."

FIND FOUR MISTAKES

So the Bad Chaps made their plans. On a piece of white bark the Fox wrote this note:

"Uncle Wiggily. Go to No. 35 and you will be surprised."

The note was dropped on the path where, after a while, the rabbit gentleman picked it up and read it.

"Ho, hum!" said Mr. Longears to himself. "Somebody wants me to go to No. 35, do they? I wonder who it is and what the surprise will be? I guess I'll go. I need an adventure."

Never thinking it was a plot of the Bad Chaps, the rabbit hopped along through the woods until, reaching the den where the Fox and Wolf were hidden, the rabbit stopped in front of the door that was newly painted.

"This is No. 35," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll go in and——"

But as Mr. Longears looked at the door he saw where the painter and the carpenter had made four mistakes in building it.

"That's queer," said the rabbit. "Four mistakes in one door. This may be a trick. I'd better not go in until those mistakes are corrected." So Uncle Wiggily hurriedly hopped away.

Now see if you can find, in the picture, the four mistakes about the door. And if you do, and if the postman doesn't take a stamp out of the letter and stick it on the pussy cat's nose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the black rock.

Half-Cape

A flowered lemon colored chiffon afternoon frock picks out the orange of its decoration to feature a half-cape that extends over just the left side front and back.

"It isn't that he drinks so much—it's those pick-me-ups that lets him down."

PRAYER BOOK DEBATE GROWS

London, May 17.—Debate on the new revised Prayer Book of the Church of England probably will not begin in the House of Commons before the end of June, but controversy over the changes to-day was raging.

The Prayer Book measure passed the first preliminary stage when the ecclesiastical committee of both Houses voted twenty to three to allow it to proceed. The legislative committee must now approve it before it is submitted to the House.

The principal contenders in the controversy so far are Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, who opposes the revision, and Right Rev. Arthur F. Winnington Ingram, Bishop of London, who supports it.

The bishop precipitated the argument by circularizing London members of Parliament urging them to support the measure. The Home Secretary declared passage of the measure would be far more grievously regarded throughout the country than its rejection would be.

DIVISION NOT WANTED

The bishop, replying to the Home Secretary, asked if the opponents of the measure were trying to drive the Anglo-Catholics out of the Church of England.

"No one," he said, "wants to drive out those who are ultra-Protestant in their doctrines. Cannot the people on our side be generous enough not only to keep within the Church of England, but to make happy in the Church of England those to whose work and devotion we owe so much?

"Your present policy, if successful, can only lead to the disruption of the Church of England and this, I feel sure, no one would deplore more than yourself."

U.E. LOYALISTS TO HOLD PICNIC HERE

Commemorating the great migration to Canada from the United States during the days of the revolutionary war, the Society of United Empire Loyalists, recently formed in Victoria, will hold its first annual picnic at the Beach Hotel to-morrow.

May 18 has been observed by Loyalists for nearly 150 years. It began with the evacuation of Boston by General Howe in 1775. Of the 16,000 inhabitants in Boston at that time, nearly 1,000 accompanied the British army to Halifax. The fleet in which they sailed was composed of every manner of vessel and it was only after a hard battle with the sea that the Canadian port was safely reached.

It was in 1783, when news leaked out that peace terms were likely to be unfavorable that the full tide of emigration set in and in April of that year over 7,000 persons, men, women and children, set out, half of them going to the River St. John and half to Port Roseway on the Nova Scotia peninsula.

"Have you heard the last story about my boy, aged five?"

"No, old man. Nobody has."

CUSTOMS BRANCH STATEMENT HEARD

At Ottawa Commercial Protective Association and R. P. Sparks Voice Criticism

Ottawa, May 17—In a report submitted to a meeting of the Commercial Protective Association here, and subsequently adopted, R. P. Sparks, chairman of the executive committee of the association, voiced criticism of the Department of National Revenue.

He expressed his view that the whole question of administration of justice in regard to customs frauds continued to be unsatisfactory and he believed it should be the subject of immediate investigation. He said responsibility for this should be placed with the Department of Justice.

PORTS OF ENTRY

He said there had been no action as yet to reduce the number of ports of entry though a drastic reduction was recommended by the Royal Commission on Customs, as well as other bodies.

He declared the staff of the Department of National Revenue was steadily increasing though all reports before the Government indicated it could be reduced by from 500 to 1,000 employees and attain greater efficiency.

He believed the report of the Royal Commission on Customs "badly drafted, incomplete, indefinite and in some places contradictory."

Mr. Sparks said political patronage had dictated the selection of the majority of recent appointees to the Customs preventive service and that many of them are "wholly unfit" for that service.

London, Ont.—"Ever since I saw the great benefit my daughter received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during her second expectant period, I have never neglected the opportunity to recommend it to every prospective mother. I was with my daughter when she was miserable and sick. Through my advice she took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and from the very beginning she gained in health and strength, was able to be up, and attended to her household duties right up to the last. She had comparatively no suffering—the least I ever witnessed. My only regret has been that I did not know of this wonderful medicine while bringing up my own family."—Mrs. Louisa Schooley, 505 Hill Street.

She sings now in the kitchen

FOR years the Womanhood of Canada struggled along with a "plaguey" Wood Stove, doing their best to feed hungry mouths. Cooking, then, was a task, and a heavy one, too. Other fuels came, but they only served to lighten her drudgery but a little. Those were the days when she was too tired to hum a lullaby.

But one day she heard of the pleasures of electric cooking. What a time, labor and money saving system it had proven itself to be.

Then she, too, demanded a Moffat—and got one. Now the family listens to her singing in the Kitchen.

Do you sing in your Kitchen? Perhaps you haven't a Moffat—Over 90,000 Women the World over are singing the praises of Moffats Electric Ranges.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES—Hello, Bill! —By MARTIN

Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Bessey.
Synopsis by Braucher.

CATCHING FISH

Fishing schooners which go out after codfish often fasten a long line of buoys. To this line are attached hundreds of shorter lines, each with a hook on the end. This is called "setting a trawl." The cod swim along together in great numbers, and sometimes hundreds will be found securely caught when the men examine the trawl. 2-1

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

Seines are long stretches of net with weights on one side and floats on the other. One end is often fastened near the shore.

Fishermen take the other end of the net far out to sea. The weights stretch the net toward the bottom, while floats keep the other end up. 2-1

A net as heavy as this cannot be drawn in by a boat. Ropes are attached to the sea end, and these are attached to a windlass on shore. The net is now in the shape of a great semi-circle, which is drawn to shore, bringing with it whatever fish were swimming in the space over which the net passed. 2-1

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1928

Fairly good fortune attends this day according to astrology which reads in the stars promise of friendly aid.

The day is especially auspicious for women who should push their affairs.

New leaders are to rise among women and one who spans the gap between the past and present is to attain supreme honors. It is foretold.

Weddings to-day should be happy indeed, for plenty of love as well as money may be expected.

There is a sign of great promise for those who engage in romantic friendships, for out of them should grow lucky marriage, the seers declare.

Again marriage is to be widely discussed and there is to be a decided reaction against radical views, it is prophesied.

The evening of this day should be a rarely fortunate one for theatres and success for new productions appears to be indicated.

The trend of plays is to be toward presentation of serious life problems that confront normal persons, instead of toward studies of abnormal states of mind, astrologers forecast.

Revival of interest in domestic pursuits is indicated for women who will bring to the home many charming changes.

Development of engineering to meet the demands of stupendous enterprises is predicted and Americans will win by their splendid talents and training, the stars presage.

Terrible floods in Mexico, India and China are prognosticated for this year.

Again warning is given against the use of drugs which will spread instead of diminishing despite all reform work.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year favorable to social affairs and to success in the arts.

Children born on this day probably will be gifted in music and will have other artistic leanings.

Keating

Keating, May 17.—The Young People of the United Church held a meeting in the church on Tuesday evening. The members spent a busy time working on the tennis court, which will soon be ready for play, several "bees" having been held recently to clear weeds and erect guards. The president, Albert Hafer, presided during the business meeting. Plans were made for the annual club picnic which will be held at Spoon Bay on Saturday afternoon, June 2. The social and athletic committees will arrange for supper and sports. A ping-pong tournament and other games were enjoyed, the evening's programme being in charge of G. Hafer and W. McLure. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bate and Miss Blanch Sherring.

Youthful Models

Expressing the vogue for youth in costumes, the jacket and jabot combination is gaining popularity. Navy blue taffeta and cream lace make one charming interpretation.

TOM MIX SHOWS AT COLUMBIA FOR REST OF WEEK

Tom Mix, western ace, starring in his latest production, "Horseman of the Plains," for Fox Films, is besieged with requests from different manufacturers, seeking recognition for their leather goods.

If the shower of leather goods continues, Mix will almost be in a position to start up in opposition. The latest shipment Mix received contained two saddles, two bridles and two sets of stirrups, with the request that he use them in his next picture. "Well, I'll be gosh swiggled," Mix exclaimed, "they must think Tony's twins or something."

Others prominent in the cast are: Sally Blane, Charles Byers, Heinie Conklin, Lew Harvey, Grace Marvin and William Ryno. Benjamin Stoloff directed the production.

"3 BAD MEN" IS TITLE OF PICTURE NOW AT VARIETY

Some faint idea of the scope of the super-photodrama of the unbridled West that Director John Ford of "Iron Horse" fame has made for Fox Films may be gathered from the statement that thirty husky woodsmen were engaged each day for almost a year supplying fuel to the players and "extras" in the great camp which sprung like magic in the Jackson's Hole Country in Teton County, Wyoming, fifty miles from the nearest city.

The new Ford epic bears the title of "3 Bad Men," and which is showing at the Variety Theatre this week.

The attraction at the Playhouse Theatre this week is Dolores Costello in Warner Bros. screen revival of "Belasco's thrilling melodrama "The Heart of Maryland." Unusually beautiful settings and superb photography, a strong story and a large and competent cast all tend to make the picture a masterpiece. Lincoln, Lee, Grant, and other celebrities of the period are impersonated with amazing faithfulness, and the tense and electric atmosphere of the times is captured to the degree of uncanniness. But after all it is the delicate and shimmering loveliness of Miss Costello, with her subtle interpretations of all shades of feeling, which make the piece so glamorous and so poignant. No one can afford to miss seeing Delores Costello in "The Heart of Maryland."

BRITISH WARSHIPS LOANED FOR FILMING OF NAVAL PICTURE

What was possibly the most expensive setting ever provided for a film was the loan by the Admiralty of the battle cruiser H.M.S. Tiger, the cruiser H.M.S. Champion, destroyers and other auxiliary vessels, the most of whose construction would be somewhere in the neighborhood of ten million pounds sterling, for the filming of "Second to None," showing at the Coliseum Theatre all this week, a romance of the Royal Navy in which high patriotism and homely service are excellently blended. Some wonderful shots illustrative of Britain's might are to be seen in the film. The work of the lower deck — seen manning the lifeboat and splicing the main brace—is followed by captain's defaulters, a dance aboard ship and finally a naval action with the firing of guns and the discharge of torpedoes.

In conjunciton with the picture "Second to None," there is a special prologue at 9 o'clock each night by the members of the Navy League of Canada, Victoria branch, with Frederick Shepherd as assisting artiste. Also special scenery to give the proper naval atmosphere.

HUMAN INTEREST STORY APPEARS AT CAPITOL THEATRE

John Greenleaf Whittier's classic poem, "The Barefoot Boy," might well have been written about Richard Barthelmess, who plays "Chad," the Kentucky Mountain boy, in the First National picturization of John Fox Jr.'s great story, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

Barthelmess, in the opening sequences of this stirring picture, appears as a barefoot boy of fourteen. Molly O'Day, his leading lady, who is actually only seventeen yeas old, is a barefoot girl in the opening scenes, also.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is an intensely human story of the Kentucky mountaineers in Civil War days. It has a dramatic punch, and continued suspense, and provides one of the finest screen stories that this popular star has ever played in.

POST-WAR COMEDY NOW SHOWING AT DOMINION HOUSE

In "Two Arabian Knights," post-war comedy drama at the Dominion Theatre, many snow scenes appear. To film them a trip was made by the company to the high mountains of Truckee, Calif. William Boyd and Mary Astor take the principal roles, with Louis Wolheim in the character comedy part.

Truckee is the "jumping-off place" for traps, east and west. In the restaurant, enjoying a good breakfast, Wolheim noted scores of men on the street outside. When he found out who they were, he went out.

"How many of you have had no breakfast?" he asked.

Every hand went up. He invited them inside. The word must have passed swiftly in hobo "underground," because the lunch counter, with fifty stools, filled up three times.

AMUSING INCIDENT REVEALED DURING LLOYD PICTURE

When Harold Lloyd was working on his latest Paramount release, "Speedy," at Forty-third Street and Broadway, New York, one of the busiest spots in the world, he had to walk across the street carrying a bouquet of flowers. To avoid having a background of curious people, who would have made the scene look just like Lloyd did not want it to look, stagey, a carefully arranged plan was worked out whereby Lloyd could remain "under cover" until it was time to start the cameras, and the scene could be shot before anyone learned what was going on. Even the cameras were camouflaged in a laundry wagon.

Everything was all set, and the cameras were about to start grinding when an automobile containing four men drove right up in front of the laundry wagon.

"Hey, move on," ordered a detective who was assigned to assist the Lloyd unit.

"Move on yourself," was the reply. The plain clothes man again ordered them on, but with no luck. Meanwhile a crowd, sensing something was wrong, began to gather. Lloyd, who had started across the street, darted back under cover. But still the machine did not move on. Finally, exasperated, the detective walked over to the machine, pulled his badge, and once more directed the chauffeur to pull ahead.

Four badges were flashed back at him. The car was loaded with New York plain clothes men, who had a crook in custody, and who was to point out his accomplices, due to meet him at that corner just about the time the Lloyd company elected to work. The scene was subsequently filmed, but only after four attempts. The picture will show at the Dominion Theatre next week.

DRAMATIC SCHOOL TO PRESENT FARCE AT CRYSTAL GARDEN

A special attraction at the Crystal Garden on Friday next will be the presentation by past and present pupils of the B.C. Dramatic School of the delightfully witty one-act farce by Gertrude E. Jennings, "The New Poor." The play has been in rehearsal for the past two months under the supervision of Major Bullock-Webster. The play is one that has proved a great favorite with theatre goers and is one that will not soon become out of date. It deals with the housing problem in a comical fashion. Little Lorna Coton, a medal winner in the recent festival, takes the child's part with an abandon that might well be envied by many an older actor. Noel Cusack, who received the highest praise for her dramatic work when she played in the Cornish Theatre, also takes a leading role. Mrs. J. W. Davis, Miss Phillis Taylor and Noel Jones complete the caste for this amusing farce. The play of the evening will be preceded by a short sketch, "The Crystal Gazer," a witty sketch by Leopold Montague, which deals with the predicament of Madame La Sorciere, the crystal gazer, who gets the identity of one of her clients in a hopeless muddle. The gullable Miss Bessie Blank is inquiring for her lost lover, but Madame confuses her with one who has lost her pet dog. Naturally the fun is hilarious. The evening's entertainment will conclude with a dance to which the entire audience is invited.

WANT ALL TO TRY HIGH SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

Saanich Trustees Opposed to Selection of Students For Test

All Saanich pupils who are in the eighth grade will be expected to write the Education Department's test for entrance to High School next month, according to an order issued by the Saanich School Board.

This course marks another step in the Saanich campaign to secure more attention by the teaching staff to pupils who are not the most brilliant members of their classes.

Some years ago the Saanich trustees decreed that no pupils should be promoted to high school by recommendation of school principals, and required that all candidates for advancement should write the examinations. In recent years the Department has withdrawn this privilege from principals, vesting the recommend authority in a board composed of the principal, the school inspector and the principal of the high school concerned.

The latest move became effective with the passing of the following resolution at the last session of the school board:

"The school board expects every pupil in eighth grade to sit for the entrance examinations."

RECORDS CONCERNED

For some years past the school board has discussed and refused to give credence to the theory that some principals either discouraged or would not allow pupils to sit for the entrance tests unless the students were believed to have a good chance of passing. Such a policy, if practiced, would have the effect of raising the pass percentage and thereby improving the efficiency record of the teacher, a factor of value when better posts are being sought, it has been pointed out.

NOT MANDATORY

While the desire of the school board that all pupils in grade eight shall sit for the examinations is expected by teachers to carry weight, when the school board meets the teachers to-morrow evening in conference at Royal Oak the trustees will be reminded that no action by the board can become mandatory, and that pupils and their parents may refuse to countenance the strain of the test if they believe they have no chance of passing.

SALARIES ALSO

At to-morrow evening's round table conference salary questions will also be to the fore, and it is the desire of the teachers, who have recently joined the Victoria District Teachers' Federation that the proceedings shall be held behind closed doors.
